Will Says Jack Could Still See Size of Check

(Special To The News)

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Feb. 1.—News of the day. Coolidge in a speech told what the budget system had saved, and congress sat and licked their chops. They could see a new postoffice in every line.

Papers said Dempsey's eyes are bad. You shake Tunney and a half million check in front of him, and you will find he can still put on enough glasses and gloves to see both objects.

Been reading about the weather in the East. We have had it bad here; two heat prostrations yesterday, and one bather went out too far.

Yours in a Panama hat.

WILL ROGERS.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

According to the state report of building operations for the past year, New Castle showed an increase of building over the preceding year mounting to nearly a million dollars. If the building done in the city's suburbs had been included it would probably have been several hundred thousand dollars greater. New Castle is expanding rapidly.

Pa Newc has mentioned it before, and can hardly refrain from reiterating as a result of the appearance of the street last night—the downtown curb lighting system needs higher power lamps. The curb lights do not give the effect that should be provided at the present time.

Out at Weigletown lives Jim Wilkinson, and friends of this man wish it noted that Jim did his butchering last Friday and Saturday. Many porkers met their end at Jim's butchering, it is said, and met their end in the grand manner, for the same friends tell us that Jim is one of the best butchers in the county.

Speaking of meat reminds us. Yesterday we talked with a meat salesman who had just sold 7,000 pounds of meat to local butchers. Being mathematically inclined, both of us did a little figuring. If a man would eat one pound of meat each meal, three meals a day, it would take him well over six years to consume the amount order only in one day by New Castle butchers. But eating one pound of meat a meal is a physical impossibility, and so it was further figured that it would take the man ten years at least to get rid of 7,000 pounds of meat.

And another meaty story was told us by the salesman. Every week, his company ships at least 60,000 pounds of meat into the city. But that is only the average week. Just before Christmas, the shipments totalled 110,000 pounds a week for more than three weeks.

While Lawrence county class B high schools are enjoying an excellent basketball season, it is interesting to note that arrangements are also being made for launching a literary championship contest between the schools also. It will be quite interesting to watch which develops that greater attention. Give you one guess!

According to announcements of the past few days, New Castle is about ready to have two airports established, one on the Wilmington road and one on the Harlansburg road. Speaks well for progress here.

Another solution to the credit situation was offered yesterday by Harry Conner, who manages the Castle Foundry. It is Mr. Connor's contention that the automobile, together with the finance company, have made things what they are today. "Yes," says Mr. Connor, "most people are never out of the clutches of finance.

Hickman's Mother Likely To Testify At Day's Session

Attorney Walsh To Place Mrs. Eva Hickman On Witness Stand In Son's Behalf

MORE DEPOSITIONS ARE READ TODAY

May Postpone Hickman-Hunt Trial In Thoms Murder Till Later Date

By ARTHUR L. MAREK
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Feb. 1.—The mother of William Edward Hickman was ready today to take the witness stand and tell the inmost secrets of her heart and mind to save her son from the gallows.

Mrs. Eva M. Hickman, described by her former neighbors as a high-strung, distracted mother who had to be committed to an Arkansas asylum because she attempted to end her life and theratened to kill her five children, will be the first witness actually to take the stand in defense of the confessed kidnaper-slayer of Marion Parker.

This was learned definitely today when Jerome Walsh, chief defense counsel, announced he planned to place Mrs. Hickman in the witness box at today's session of the trial of reveal the story of her life.

Meanwhile, the kidnaping-murder case marked time as Hickman and his confessed bandit confederate, Welby Hunt, 16-year-old Kansas City youth, prepared to face another bar of justice for the murder of C. Ivy Thoms, Los Angeles druggist, during a gun duel.

Hickman and Hunt are charged jointly with the fatal shooting of the druggist in a frustrated drug store holdup on Chrismas eve, 1926. Their trial on the joint murder charge has been set for today before Superior Judge Carlos S. Hardy. Hickman has entered a dual plea of not guilty and not guilty by reason of insanity. Hunt pleaded not guilty.

Resume Depositions.

Judge Hardy, who withdrew from the Parker murder case, when the defense charged he was prejudiced against Hickman, faced the necessity of postponing the Thoms trial until the end of Hickman's trial on the kidnaping and murder charges.

The depositions of 12 absent defense witnesses remained to be read to the jury at the resumption today of Hickman's trial.

First among the unread depositions, according to Hickman's lawyers, was that of James Parker, owner of a Kansas City butcher shop and a former employer of Hickman.

The man who, by a strang coincidence, has the same name as that of Perry M. Parker, father of the slain Marion, has sworn, according to the defense attorneys, that Hickman shrank from killing a chicken.

Hickman lawyers said they expect-

Former Butler Bank Official Sent To Prison

Thomas M. Baker Is Given Three-Year Term In Federal Penitentiary

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 1.—Thomas M. Baker, 65, vice-president of the Merchants National bank of Butler, was sentenced to three years in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta, Ga., today by Federal Judge F. P. Schoonmaker on a charge of making false reports.

Baker pleaded guilty to falsifying reports to the comptroller of currency over a period of three years, when arraigned in Federal court today. His counsel explained that Baker had misrepresented worthless notes in the report, hoping that in time the notes would be redeemable, and that a loss of $200,000 had been suffered by the bank's stockholders, but not by the depositors.

Baker has been in jail since last May. He was indicted last week. The Grand jury, at the same time, returned an indictment against J. P. Hutsler, cashier of the bank, who has not yet been arraigned.

Col. Lindbergh Will Fly To Porto Rico, Thursday

(International News Service)

ST. THOMAS, Virgin Islands, Feb. 1.—Following close on the heels of the marvelous reception accorded him on his arrival, numerous receptions and banquets were planned for Col. Charles A. Lindbergh today.

Among the functions scheduled in his honor were receptions by the Masonic bodies, the Chamber of Commerce and the legislature. A special horse racing program and a masquerade ball will wind up Col. Lindbergh's only full day here.

Tomorrow the flying colonel will fly over St. Croix and then turn toward San Juan, Porto Rico, where he is due to arrive in the early afternoon.

The reception accorded Col. Lindbergh on his arrival after making the 1,000-mile flight from Venezuela was unprecedented in the history of this community. Practically the entire population of St. Thomas, with hundreds from neighboring islands, were on hand when the young aviator was greeted and welcomed by Government Secretary Van Patten, who conducted Col. Lindbergh to Governor Captain Evans.

When the Spirit of St. Louis appeared over the harbor here it circled the field three times before landing. A biplane sent out to meet the visitor and escort him to the landing field failed to find Col. Lindbergh and he arrived alone while the biplane was still seeking him.

Col. Joe Thompson Dies This Morning

World War Hero And Former State Senator Dies At Beaver Falls

DEATH ATTRIBUTED TO WAR INJURIES

(International News Service)

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., Feb. 1.—Col. Joseph H. Thompson, 56, former political leader, World war hero, prominent attorney and football star, died at his home at Patterson Heights here early today. Effects of gas inhaled during the war were blamed as a direct cause of his death.

Col. Thompson died at 1:25 o'clock this morning.

Colonel Thompson was one of the few soldiers receiving the congressional medal of honor for gallant service during the World war.

Col. Thompson was Beaver county's most outstanding soldier in the World War, achieving the rank of Colonel and becoming distinguished as a hero when awarded the Croix De Guerre with Palm by the French Government and the Cabalier Ufficiale of the Order of the Crown of Italy for services rendered those two countries. On the gridiron he gained fame, first at Geneva College as a player and captain and later at the University of Pittsburgh as player, captain and coach, and as a coach at Carnegie Tech. He served in the Pennsylvania State Senate from the Beaver-Lawrence district in 1912-16.

Born in County Down, Ireland, September 26, 1871, a son of Jacob and Jean Riley Thompson, he was brought to this country by his parents at the age of two months. Some time later the family returned to Ireland and the boy attended the primary schools there. On March 4, 1889, he came to America, worked in the mills and continued his education in Geneva College. Later he attended the University of Pittsburgh and was graduated in 1908. He had taken up the study of law and was admitted to the bar in the same year.

"Joe" Thompson rode into public notice on the vehicle of the gridiron. The first time Pittsburgh heard of him was when he repeatedly thrilled the football crowds of Geneva College and later won the plaudits of the throngs that used to pack old Exposition Park on the North Side at the Pitt games.

He achieved national fame when Geneva defeated the crack Washington & Jefferson team and on the Pitt team Thompson continued his great stride. Following his graduation he coached the Pitt team for two seasons and was succeeded by "Pop" Warner. Thompson also continued in an advisory capacity in coaching later Geneva teams and continued a great interest in that school as well as the University of Pittsburgh.

He began his military career when

Ballot Recount Starts Thursday

Senate Committee Expects To Start Work On State Ballot Count At Once

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The recount of ballots seized in Pennsylvania's 1926 senatorial election probably will be started Thursday by two Senate committees, it was indicated today in hopes of determining before February 23 whether William S. Vare (R) or William B. Wilson (D) was legally elected.

The Senate elections sub-committee, headed by Senator Waterman (R) of Colorado, and the Reed slush fund committee, will co-operate in the recount. The retabulation will begin with 750,000 ballots seized by the Reed committee a year ago in the counties of Philadelphia, Allegheny, Delaware, Lackawanna, Luzerne and Schuylkill. Others may be added later at the request either of Vare or Wilson.

A board of supervisors was named by the two committees and two claimants to conduct the recount. Leon D. Ripley, former state senator in New Hampshire, will represent the Waterman committee, while Algernon R. Clapp, Philadelphia attorney, will represent the Reed committee. The Vare supervisor will be Harry Kuenzel, Philadelphia county commissioner, while Wilson's supervisor will be Robert Carson, former Philadelphia city magistrate.

Million Dollar Fire Damage At Burlington, Vt.

Entire Business District Of Vermont Town Threatened By Raging Flames

(International News Service)

BURLINGTON, Vt., Feb. 1.—Damage estimated at nearly $1,000,000, was done by fire in the heart of the business district of this city today.

Flames destroyed two buildings in one block.

Five stores, a barber shop, the offices of the Prudential Life Insurance company and the local and state Young Men's Christian Association were burned out.

The interior of the two buildings was burned out and crowds were kept back by police in the fear that the brick walls would fall.

The new $400,000 city hall stood only a few rods away from the burning blocks and firemen waged a long and hard battle to save the new structure.

Also a short distance away was police headquarters and this too was guarded by firemen.

Several persons escaped from the Y. M. C. A. building but no injuries were reported

Believe Missing College Girl Is Now Governess

Boston Girl Says Girl Answering Frances Smith's Description Sought Work

SEARCH HOMES IN BACK BAY SECTION

Employment Agencies Visited By Investigators Seeking To Obtain Clues

(International News Service)

BOSTON, Feb. 1.—Search for Miss Frances St. John Smith, missing Smith College freshman, today led to the home of a wealthy man near Boston to which a girl answering the description of the missing New York heiress was sent last November by a Back Bay employment agency.

State police were interviewing proprietors of two employment agencies and were visiting the home to which the girl of Miss Smith's description was sent to obtain a position as governess for the man's two children.

Although the girl resembling Miss Smith sought employment last November, state police thought it was possible that she planned to run away from college long before she vanished on January 13.

The latest "promising clue" in the strange disappearance of the golden-haired daughter of the wealthy retired New York broker came from Miss Lucy J. Gurnee.

Reporter Gets Tip

To a newspaperman, who had been working on the Smith case in Northampton, Miss Gurnee told her startling story. It was immediately placed in the hands of the state investigators.

Miss Gurnee said that she came upon the girl resembling the missing college freshman during the last week of November 1927.

A hitch in the investigation, however, was word from the Smith family in New York that Frances was known to be at her studies at that time.

Miss Gurnee told the police that she had answered an advertisement for a position in the corset shop of a friend. The girl answering Miss

The fingerprints will be sent to police departments in other cities, especially in the cases of Wright and Cowan, who are believed to have done considerable traveling. It is hoped by this method to get some record of their past histories.

(Washington Correspondent New Castle News.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Representative J. Howard Swick today sent to the war department the nomination of Kenneth Forney, 145 Spring street, Wodlawn, for principal to take the entrance examination at West Point in March with a view to entering as a cadet with the class in July.

He named Richard Matteson of Butler as first alternate and Jack M. Christman, 1303 Albert street, New Castle as second alternate. Mr. Swick made these nominations in accordance with ratings made by these youngsters in civil service examinations recently held at New Castle, Butler and Beaver Falls.

Spiritualism Figures In Request To Cancel Deed By Lucy Knight

One of the most unusual equity cases ever heard in the Lawrence county courts came before Judge Chambers this morning on petition of Attorney Wilber J. Baer, guardian of Lucy M. Knight, to have a deed canceled.

The deed had been made to P. S. True of New York City, an alleged fictitious person, by Lucy M. Knight allegedly by power of attorney for Margaret Brooks.

The petition sets forth that Lucy M. Knight, who owns considerable property in South New Castle, is now confined in a hospital for the insane at Pendleton, Ore. Various transfers of property by Lucy M. Knight to Margaret Brooks and from Margaret Brooks back to Lucy M. Knight are alleged to have been made.

On October 17, 1922, Lucy M. Knight, allegedly under power of attorney for Margaret Brooks, made a conveyance of property to "P. S. True" of New York City. It is claimed that Lucy M. Knight was a student of various esoteric cults of spiritualists, and became possessed with hallucinations concerning the power of members of the cult to converse with departed spirits. One of the spirit persons whom she believed to be her guardian was known to her as "P. S. True" of New York City, to whom she made a deed for a certain piece of property. It is claimed now that there is no such a person as "P. S. True", that he was a fictitious character, existing only in the mind of Lucy M. Knight.

There was no delivery of the deed, which purports to be executed under power of attorney and not as attorney in fact. It is also claimed that the deed was improperly acknowledged. In the hearing today Mr. Baer, as guardian, asks that the court decree that the deed be canceled. Decision will be handed down later.

The message sent by the submarine's commanding officer at 9:30 last night, reported the S-3 passing through Crooked Island Channel, West Indies, at that hour, after encountering heavy weather. Leap Year Girls Fall Down On Job

Fewer Marriage Licenses Granted This Year In January Of Last

Leap year girls are falling down on the job, according to the records at the office of Prothonotary R. M. Campbell. During the month of January this year 61 marriage licenses were issued, as against 78 during January of 1927.

Perhaps the girls have not yet awakened to the possibilities of their opportunities, or it may be that they are just downright timid, at any rate they are making a sorrowful showing.

Marriage licenses business was not fully up to par during the past year. Various reasons were given. Some seemed to think it was the high cost of living; others attributed to bashfulness of young men.

Prothonotary Campbell hoped that it would pick up when the girls got a chance to do their bit, but the books don't show it.

Mrs. Knapp Will Face Grand Jury On Fraud Charge

Allege Former New York Secretary Of State Misused Funds

FIRST WOMAN TO HOLD STATE OFFICE

Administration Of Large State Census Fund Is Basis Of Charges

By RAYMOND J. BORST
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 1.—Mrs. Florence E. S. Knapp, former secretary of state, and the first woman elected to high office in New York state, must face criminal prosecution before the Albany county grand jury on charges of forgery, grand larceny and other felonies in connection with her administration of the $1,200,000 1925 state census fund.

Governor Alfred E. Smith today transmitted to District Attorney Charles J. Herrick of Albany county the report of Moreland Commissioner Randal J. Leboeuf Jr. of Albany, who charged Mrs. Knapp with forgery and larceny in the alleged illegal expenditure and waste of $197,000 of census funds.

No Other Way

The governor said he turned the Lebeouf report over to Herrick with "great reluctance", but that he could see no other way "to treat otherwise serious charges against an executive officer at the head of a state department". District Attorney Herrick said he would lay the charges against Mrs. Knapp before the March grand jury. If Mrs. Knapp is indicted, Herrick indicated, she probably would be tried in April.

Governor Smith recommended that the criminal prosecution of Mark Stern, deputy secretary of state; Anna Little, auditor in the State Department, and Julia A. Ryan, head of the payroll division of the civil service commission, as recommended by Leboeuf for the part they played in the census scandal, is to be dropped.

No Mention of Laidlaw

The governor made no mention of Dr. Walter Laidlaw, executive secretary of the cities census committee who filed the original charges against Mrs. Knapp. In his report Leboeuf recommended that the grand jury investigate the failure of Dr. Laidlaw to register as a lobbyist while urging the passage of census legislation at the capital in 1926.

As a result of charges made by Dr. Laidlaw against Mrs. Knapp Governor Smith last fall appointed Leboeuf as Moreland commissioner to investigate the administration of the census.

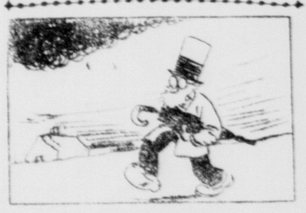

The Leboeuf report has been in the hands of Governor Smith for about 10 days, during which time he made a careful study of every charge it contained.

Fair and warmer the forecast says, warmer mornings and much more sun, looks as though winter would be passe, before its weather had really begun. Fair and warmer sounds good to me, fairer days that precede the spring, warmer days that will bring flowers, days when the lark and the robin sing. Fair and warmer, means much less coal, overcoats will be good as new, fair and warmer, is just the thing, today it has climbed back to thirty-two. And the winter days will be less and less and the frost will recede and the snow and storm, which brings a smile when the weather man says, for Pennsylvania, fair and warm.

Plastic Surgery Fails, Chicago Woman Has Legs Amputated Above Knee

Operation Intended To Straighten Legs Causes Gangrene Poisoning

Doctor Who Operated On Lady Diana Manners And "Peaches" Browning Fails

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—Miss Sadie Holland, 30, is in a critical condition today as a result of having both legs amputated above the knees. Two weeks ago she submitted to an operation designed to straighten her legs, which were slightly bowed. Gangrene poisoning developed and the double amputation was resorted to in an effort to save her life.

The leg-straightening operation was performed by Dr. Henry J. Schireson, a plastic surgeon. Previously he had performed plastic operations on Lady Diana Manners and Frances 'Peaches' Browning.

News of the tragic operation came to light when a brother of the young woman, Joseph I. Holland, called at the office of John W. Follmer, chief investigator for the state department of registration, and reported as follows:

"She went to Dr. Schireson to have a burn on one of her shoulders treated. Then Dr. Schireson suggested to her that it would be easy to make her legs appear straight. She agreed to the price he fixed and the operation was performed.

"From what I understand, the large bone of her leg was cut completely through, below the knee, with a circular electric saw. Then a plaster cast was put on, but in a short time it had to be removed. The pain was more than she could stand.

"Next, Dr. Van Doren, recommended by our family physician, was called in. He found her suffering from gangrene. To save her life, it was decided to amputate her limbs above the knees."

Smith's description applied for the position at the same time as did the Boston girl.

The position had been filled and together the two girls set out to find another. In their rounds of the employment agencies they became chummy.

Clue Flickering

Northampton, Mass., Feb. 1. — The latest "clue" in the mysterious disappearance of Miss Frances St. John Smith—that she was in Boston on November 28th or 29th seeking employment as a governess or nursemaid—appeared to be "flickering out" today when an examination of her records at Smith College disclosed that no absent marks were recorded against her name during the week of November 28th.

It was pointed out, however, that it was possible that Miss Lucy Gurnee, the Boston girl who believes she talked with Miss Smith was mistaken in the exact date. She had reported it as November 28 or 29th. This was just after the Thanksgiving week end holiday at Smith College.

All praise and no blame seems to be Lindy's portion forever. But of course he may get married.

Mrs. Hickman will probably take the stand at the opening of the afternoon session, the defense attorney announced. She was to be followed, in turn, by Hickman's father, William Thomas Hickman, and an elder brother Alfred.

Headed by Dr. R. O. Shelton of Los Angeles, three defense alienists were to complete Hickman's defense that he was crazy and did not know that he was doing wrong when he stole and slew the 12-year-old school girl. The other expert witnesses for Hickman are Dr. A. L. Skog of Kansas City, Mo., and Dr. F. M. Fettes of Los Angeles.

Former Police Chief "Cap" Edwards of Kansas City will be unable to attend the trial to testify for the defense, Hickman's attorney's announced.

Before they have paid for old cars, they are worn out, and must be replaced by newer models. And that make things a vicious circle."

Pa Newc can add to his statement of yesterday concerning the prosperity of New Castle. In the afternoon he covered the east side run, and while the plants out there did not have much news, yet all managers reported everything under control, and doing nicely, thank you.

Rose avenue will soon be open down to Butler avenue. Even with the thermometer hovering below the freezing mark, a huge steam shovel is cutting down a hillside, while wagons and men with wheelbarrows are moving the dirt to depressions which must be filled.

About the hardest job in New Castle at the present time, as we see it, is that of trying to keep the floor of the lobby of the main postoffice clean. Everybody that enters the building tracks in dirt.

In a store window yesterday we noted a display of straw hats.

While moving day is usually about the first of April or May, there appears to have been a larger number of flittings from home to home in this city during January this year than for several years.

Pa Newc is notified that The News is quoted in "Topics of the Day," a movie news weekly, in the current releases.

Yes, Pa Newc mused the other day, conversation is fast becoming a lost art. Now people, when they do talk, use monosyllables. There is no rhythm in their speech. It is like the puffings of an engine.

And another thing that Pa Newc has noted in his journeys up and down Washington street is the dearth of good literature displayed on the newsstands. Any cheap, sexy magazine is sure to sell far greater than a standard periodical, published by a staff of competent journalists. But there is one stand in the city that saves the day. It keeps all magazines, most of the best, and even shows a loss at the end of the month. Yet it enjoys a reputation.

For the past few evenings Pa Newc has noticed that there are several motorists around town who drive their car with the rear spotlight burning. Probably the drivers of the cars with the burning rear lights are unaware of the fact that the lights were hard on other motorists, and the practice should cease.

Edwin Lewis Made Church Organist At Ellwood City

One Of This City's Best Musicians Assumes Duties At Presbyterian Church

Of considerable interest to his many friends is the announcement that Edwin Lewis of this city has been appointed organist of the First Presbyterian church in Ellwood City, having assumed his duties there on January 1.

Mr. Lewis is well known in this city. At the present time he is accompanist for the Consistory Choir, also for the Castle Singers, composed of Richard E. Johns, George Anthony, Joseph Stritmater and Harry Evans.

He was formerly organist at the Emmanuel Baptist church and was accompanist for the New Castle Glee Club for a number of years, as well as for the Apollo Club.

His many friends will be glad to hear of his appointment, and no doubt a number will avail themselves of the opportunity of hearing him at the vesper service which is held at 4:45 each Sunday. The quartet of the church is composed of Mrs. A. H. Mellor, soprano, of this city; Mrs. Edward Mackasek, contralto; Alfred Hutchinson tenor and director, and Oliver Harris, bass.

Ganna Walska To Ask Divorce From Harold McCormick

Report Ganna Ready To Settle For $3,500,000 But McCormick Wants To Slash Price

(International News Service)

PARIS, Feb. 1.—A mutual divorce action ending the romance of Mme. Ganna Walska, Polish singer, and Harold F. McCormick, Chicago multimillionaire, may be filed within the next six days, it was learned today from friends of the wife.

A financial settlement is holding up the action. Mme. Walska is understood to be demanding $3,500,000 whereas McCormick seeks to settle upon a basis of half that sum.

When Mme. Walska was divorced from Alexander Cochrane, before her marriage to the Chicago manufacturer, she received $2,500,000.

"These divorce rumors are very amusing to me," Mme. Walska told International News Service. "I shall not deny this one because I am tired of denying the same thing every week. Maybe it is true; maybe it is not. You may take your choice."

If the suit is filed by McCormick it probably will be heard by the Chicago courts, the charge being technical desertion because Mme. Walska refuses to live in the United States. If it is filed here by Mme. Walska the basis of the action would be the same as McCormick refuses to live in Paris, owing to his business interests at home.

Why We See, and How

The eye is like a camera. Light enters thru the pupil (lens) and is focused sharply (in the normal eye) on the retina (plate). When the curvature of the pupil (lens) is abnormal, images are not focused clearly and sharply.

It is the business of the "Optometrist" to determine the proper lens needed to give the eye its normal power and correct curvature, requiring complicated mathematical calculations and exact grinding of lenses—a higly skilled profession.

SOUTHWARD TREND NOW DISCERNED

THE UNITED STATES census bureau reports a southern trend in the nation's population centre after more than two decades of active movement northward and westward, and predicts that the figures for 1930 will show a strong tendency in the direction of the Southwest.

The 13 original states formed a rather compact section of the country, which seems small enough when compared with the 48 which comprise the sisterhood at the present time. But, almost from the time of the first census, the disposition of the people has been to strike out for the north and for the west. The pioneers opened new territory, and it was the possibilities of this unworked land that caused Horace Greeley to volunteer the advice contained in the words: "Go West, young man! Go West." Well, young and old did go West, and they have been doing so for many years until now, for the first time, a halting is noticed. The migration has not ceased and probably will not for many years, but the industrial expansion of the South is beginning to attract attention and there is great development in Texas, Oklahoma and Florida.

Director Steuart of the census bureau predicts a population of about 124,000,000 for the United States in 1930. At the time of the 1920 census the centre of population was placed at a point two miles due west of Whitehall, Indiana. If the predictions of the officials are verified it will come nearer east as a result of the forthcoming tabulation. Speculation concerning the effect of these changes of the center of population can be endless, but we are sure that they make little or no difference to such firmly settled states as Pennsylvania and New York, which will continue, as heretofore, the mainstays of the United States treasury.

RECORD-BREAKING AIRSHIP LANDING

THE recent feat of landing the dirigible Los Angeles on the deck of the aircratt carrier Saratoga combined a spectacular development in the navigation of lighter-than-air craft with a very neat peace of seamanship. The Saratoga nosed into the wind as she would nose against the current to come alongside a dock, and the dirigible, bucking the wind on the same line of approach, came up and settled to the deck of the great carrier. "A hose was led to the Los Angeles and fuel, water, supplies and all passengers were transferred from one ship to the other," the formal report to the Navy Department declares.

Heretofore the Los Angeles has been dependent upon the specially equipped mast-ship Patoka for making landings with the fleet. During the World War the Germans by choice, and often perforce because of artillery damage to the cells of their Zeppelins, landed the great ships on the sea surface and "taxied" as a seaplane does over the ocean. Experiments were made in the taking of fuel, but none contemplated sea connections which would permit a complete refueling, repairs, receipt or discharge of passengers or other performances usually connected with a docking operation.

It is true that untoward weather conditions would make such a feat as was performed by the Saratoga and the Los Angeles immensely dangerous; but the experiment holds promise of immense progress in the use of lighter-than-air craft as an arm of the fleet. The records of the World War show that they were invaluable to the Germans, particularly in the North Sea operations.

ANTICIPATION—LIFE'S GREATEST JOY?

EVERY fisherman and hunter knows that the joy we get out of life is not the joy we aimed for but greater. The same with good workmen who at the beginning work well that they may prosper in the end but find as the years pass that the real joy was in the labor, not labor's wages.

Anticipated pleasures and joys are never realized, for anticipation ever builds higher and more beautiful castles than realization, albeit anticipation builds hers of air. It is therefore the unexpected joy, the unanticipated reward that brings happiness undiluted.

What must have been the heart throbs of Charles M. Schwab when Andrew Carnegie made him a partner in the world's greatest steel industry. Was there any less joy brought into the life of Warren G. Harding when the Republican convention nominated him for the presidency?

These dispatches of delight are like the unheralded letter from the long missing or bringing much wished-for but unexpected news. When boy or girl will forget the prize won in school and the finding under the Christmas tree the very gift they had hardly dared dream of?

"Oh, the unexpected joys that meet us just around the corner of life," is the favorite motto of Helen Keller, the deaf, dumb and blind philanthropist.

So is it in life a good policy to expect the unexpected by preparing for it. Often the last key on the ring opens the lock.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 5:19. Sun rises tomorrow 7:09.

Making the world better is one way of making many people better.

A very prominent local citizen told us that he is for President Coolidge first for president and his second choice is Al Smith. Giddap Garibaldi!

Probably the people do not have so much good luck as formerly because the chance of finding a horse shoe has diminished.

If a person is accused of stealing a sheep or a ham or even a chicken he is quickly convicted and sentenced to the jail house. However, a murderer is kept a long time and sentimentalists are allowed to send him flowers and candy and his trial is delayed for some reason or other until interest in his horrible crime wanes. 'Taint right.

There are families it seems, each member of which will admit they are either crazy now or were or will be in order to save some murderous soul in the family who is in danger of paying the price charged by society for a heinous crime. And then we have what the mother will do in addition to save an erring son. Sacrifices are still being made.

Just to think of it! Back in our youth we used to carry a bucket full of sauer kraut juice out into the woods because the pigs would not eat it and we were not allowed to throw it on the ground that was under cultivation because it would kill all the virtue in the sail. But now we see sauer kraut juice quoted on the menus of fine hotels and other places not so fine at prices ranging from ten cents to thirty-five cents a glass. The better the place the higher the price. We wonder what some of our good old German friends would say if they could come back and hear of this.

Three of the biggest bath houses in Atlantic City burned down. They were all on the Boardwalk and their names are well known to all who have ever been in that place. The new ones to be built will be more modern and they will be paid for from the profits of one season if present prices are maintained.

A man 33 years of age living at Rochester, Minn., started eighteen years ago as a dishwasher in a hotel in that place and a few days ago was elected president of the largest hotel corporation in the north west. America sure is a great place for those who want to work and use their heads for other purposes than holding their hats on.

A stenographer in Camden, N. J., is holding on to her $30 a week job in spite of the fact that she has fallen heir to one hundred thousand real American dollars. This is all right if she is not keeping some poor girl out of a job.

A young lady who left her home in Illinois to go to Chicago because playing the organ in her church in her home town was not exciting enough, has gone back home after six years in the city and being in jail charged with a murder suspect and other things. Home looks mighty good to her according to her own story and she says it does not pay to be anything but what mother and pap want her to be.

When a man's wife wants to go south or west or even southwest and she tells her husband that she thinks she is going on a long journey it means more than if Eva Fay or some other alleged authority tells the man the same thing. Aind id?

A chap who dropped from an airplane in Australia and flew to the ground by the use of a parachute dropped into the sea among a flock of hungry sharks. He came near being eaten before he was rescued. We are off all parachute stunts also.

From reports we read we have come to the conclusion that an automobile loaded with humans that goes into a lake or stream gives the occupants of a closed car mighty little chance for escape. It looks like good business to be careful while going along a road bordered by a body of water of any kind.

A young lady in Seattle who has gained a lot of notoriety by announcing that she was going to marry some kind of a Hottentot prince named Maharagah, now declares she is not going to marry him but will always love him. This prince already has several wives in his jungle home and is reported as being quite rich. That young lady had better stay in Seattle.

A man may prevent an attack of gout, but lovesickness comes on him too suddenly for him to take precautionary measures.

In the queer old days closed bookcases were used to keep the dirt out instead of in.

A Methodist preacher in New York said from his pulpit on Sunday that Mayor Walker had quit drinking and that he felt much better since he quit last September. He also told the preacher he could say so from his pulpit. A lot of people never suspected him of drinking at that. We have heard the mayor speak a few times and he is a great advertiser.

A man has to be a real gentleman to shake hands with the fellow he'd like to give a swift kick.

Happiness will teach a fellow to dance a lot quicker than the dancing teacher.

TODAY'S STORYETTE

The celebrated pianist was telling a few tales at the dinner party.

"Yes," he said, "the fact of my being a good pianist once saved my life from a severe flood I experienced."

"Oh, how was that?" queried a voice.

"You see when the water struck our house my wife managed to scramble aboard the dining room table and floated down the stream until she was rescued."

"Yes, but where did you come in?" queried the same voice.

"Well, I accompanied her on the piano," grinned the pianist, genially.

Happiness is a perfume that you cannot pour on others without getting a few drops yourself.

One reason for divorce is that it's hard to keep on loving pretty ankles after you discover they can't cook worth a darn.

Apparently the police officer who does things is the type that most generally comes in for criticism from those who are always ready to find fault with a man who is just human. But did you ever stop to consider that the man who does things is most generally the man who is open to criticism. The fellow who does nothing is the fellow who is never open to criticism.

Youth and experience are pals, sometimes. Youth goes ahead, often heedlessly, and sometimes succeeds, but more often fails. Experience hesitates, investigates, then moves and succeeds. That's the reason that both are essential in police affairs.

Just been wondering what in the world the traction company expects the people of the Hamilton street district to do in the matter of cheap transportation if successful in obtaining permission to abandon that line. Years ago the traction company was anxious to run street cars into that section of the city. They have trained the people to expect that service. Now they would take it away from them. They must have forgotten that it is not a rubber tire district.

A LETTER FROM THE SCENES OF OUR CHILDHOOD

Wampum, Pa.,
Jan. 26, 1928.

Dear Sir:

I see in your paper you are at a loss to know where to find an oyster stew.

Now we have the church and we are planning an oyster stew for next month and we have never dispensed with them. Our church is a little ways out of town, but didn't realize it was so out of date, but we are going to have the stew just the same.

Now if you would enjoy a real stew, just watch our church notes and come out, and I am sure you will be delighted with the delicious stew you will get.

Our church is the Savannah M. E. and our pastor is Rev. Claud Downs. Maybe he doesn't know oyster stew is so out of date, for he is real zealous that we keep progressing, so I won't sign my name for fear I have given him away and he might expel me from the church for being so unfaithful as giving him away.

AN INTERESTED SUBSCRIBER.

One by one we are laying away those boys of '61-'65. They will soon be but a memory. We hope and believe that they will not be entirely forgotten because of the newer and more youthful group of men who did things for their country.

Now we have with us the demand for a home for wayward girls. There is no doubt of the existence of this type of girls, who often prove a menace to themselves and the community. It just appears to be another instance of where responsibility is shifted. Proper parental care would eliminate some of this trouble if the parents could find time to assume their duties.

Education is one of the best forms of insurance against the future that we know of if combined with natural ability. Otherwise it is worse than none at all.

The two things that sanction a kiss are mistletoe and a mother-in-law. Mistletoe is a parasite.

We heard the other day that now perhaps the north end of the county would get a few of the good things that the county has to pass out, because it is represented in the board of county commissioners. But the people of that district should not put it all up to the representative. They should make themselves heard and felt.

Religion and business may be on the best of terms, but they don't grow bigger together. As the city grows we find the churches moving from the business center of the city to the outlying districts. The church thrives best in the atmosphere created by homes.

We heard an official say the other day that the fellow who tries to hand you something just because you are in public office usually has an ax to grind. He's sure to want something in return. Never accept anything that would give the other fellow the least chance to say he did something for you, is the slogan of this official. You're sure to regret it if you do.

Don't hear so much talk of paving work to be done here this year. It's not because we don't want the paved streets, but rather because of the fact that those who have to pay think the increased taxes will be about enough this year.

There's one thing we've discovered. That you can't pursuade a woman to vote contrary to her religious instincts and training. Just try it once and see what you get. That's the reason few husbands can boast of controlling the vote of their family.

Life lasts such a little while. It's like a flash of light—a breath—a Treasury surplus.

Don't cuss congressmen. A man can't sit on a fence with his ear to the ground and keep his nose on a grindstone.

Someone, Not Trotzky.
Dempsey's Two Eyes.
Ibanez Sees Four Horsemen.
Why Poison Any?

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1928, by N. Y. American, Inc.)

Trotzky is supposed to be raising an army of his sympathizers to fight against Bolshevist bosses that exiled him and others of Lenin's associates.

A fight for supremacy will come some day in Russia. Trotzky probably will not lead it. He is a consumptive, in weak health. And it would take a man with terrific force, mental and physical, the type of Peter the Great or Ivan the Terrible to terrorize and organize 200,000 Russian villages into a fighting army.

"The night hath a thousand eyes, the day but one," says an old song. The heavens have a thousand eyes, and Jack Dempsey only two. But millions in the United States, as Mr. Rickard will testify, are more interested in Mr. Dempsey's two eyes than in all the eyes that shine above.

Therefore, news that Dempsey is going blind is much more important than the falling of many stars would be.

Financially speaking Mr. Dempsey's eyes are worth more than a million dollars apiece, whereas there is actually no financial value in two "eyes" that shine in the belt of Orion.

Later news, you may be glad to hear, says Mr. Dempsey's trouble is temporary, and will not interfere with his fights as planned.

Ibanez at war with the Spanish government when he died, cannot be buried in his own country. His friends will bring Spanish soil from Ibanez's own garden among the orange groves of Valencia and have him buried in that soil on French territory.

It will make little difference to Ibanez, who, according to the belief of millions, is even now getting from St. John exact details about the Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse, perhaps studying them, white, red, black and pale, as they ride out the universe.

The government has a new "denaturant" that, mixed with alcohol, makes it "taste terrible," but not poisonous.

The government will learn that terrible taste will not discourage confirmed drinkers. A denaturant that would cause instantaneous vomiting, without serious injury, would probably be as good as anything.

But why must the government poison, or half poison, any of its citizens?

New York city is groaning in a temperature of 13 above zero. This makes people laugh in northern states where 13 below is "pleasant weather", also in Florida, California and Gulf states, where it is always summer.

France, the real flying country thus far, is about to establish air mail service between Paris and Rio De Janeiro. This letter carrying route, 8,000 miles long, will be covered in seven "air and water" hops at the rate of a thousand miles a day. Wonderful now, it will seem slow ten years hence.

The bishops of the Church of England, guided by the Reverend Archbishop of Canterbury, wrote a new prayer book. The House of Commons threw it out. The Church of England will try again, and the archbishop requests "prayers for the success for the second attempt."

To the laymen, struggling to find exact wordings for a prayer, seems unnecessary. Prayer is addressed to omniscience, which reads the heart and the mind.

It has been suggested that no prayer is necessary except, "Lord, be merciful to me, a sinner."

Even that is almost unnecessary, for it is hard to imagine that the Lord would NOT be merciful to feeble creatures born of His own power. However, about such subjects laymen know nothing.

RECALLING OUR KISSING GAMES

She is very proper now, there are furrows in her brow,
And her hair is tinged quite visibly with gray,
And I chuckled as I heard her deploring as absurd
The doings of the youngster of today.

In a manner dignified, she most fluently decried
The passing of the generation old,
And she gave it as her view that the things the youngsters do
Are decidely too brazen and too bold.

And she said, though not in rhyme:
"Necking parties are a crime.
We never acted that way in our youth."
But I knew her as a maid; recalling games we'd played
I knew that she had wandered from the truth.

Oh, her cheeks went flaming red, as I looked at her and said:
"Mary, dear, with that you cannot get away.
In the days which you review, many a kiss I gave to you
In those parlor kissing games we used to play."

To her face there came a grin, as I named "Clap Out! Clap In!"
"Post Office" as the games we used to play.
And I said: "Though older grown, let the dreadful truth be known.
We did our share of kissing in our day."

Dr. Crane's Editorial

A NEW START

We often wish that we could live our lives over.

We see where we have made mistakes, and see in the clutches of what untoward things we have been caught, and we would like to start again with the new knowledge we possess.

Most resolutions that are formed are useless because they have not enough steam behind them. We haven't the power to carry them into effect.

The one motivating power that we all have at hand and which he can call on in any emergency is love.

Love something.

Find something or somebody that you love. Make your resolution for the sake of that love and backed by it.

A resolution that is purely intellectual or purely from the will is not of as much value as one which is backed by the power of a supreme love.

It may be the love of a mother that you have neglected so far but for whom you really feel strong affection. It may be love of a wife, or children, or a friend. Whatever it is, it is a life buoy for your sinking will. Lay hold of it and it will keep you up.

As well try to run a locomotive without steam or an automobile without gasoline as try to steer your life without love.

It is the motive power that underlies the will.

All of us love something.

Search your heart for some object upon which you can center all your affection and by that love you shall be saved.

Love is the keeping of all the Commandments and love is the true savior of man.

We remember an instance in the Scriptures of a woman who was a great sinner, but who was pardoned because she loved much.

Love is the only thing that counterbalances our wrong-doings.

All conclusions that are reached by anything else than love are falsehood. Love sees and understands. Hate is blind.

Bible Thought For Today

A GREAT HEART:—I will praise Thee, O Lord my God, with all my heart: and I will glorify Thy name for evermore. Psalm 86:12.

PRAYER: May we ever be able, our God, to praise Thee, out of the abundance of our hearts.

One Year Ago

Fifteen hundred reported homeless as result of floods along the White River in Arkansas.

Metals are rather well distributed. America has the gold, Britain the tin and France the brass.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

LET THE "GOB" TELL 'EM.

From the halls of Montezuma
To the shores of Tripoli
We fight our country's battles
On the land as on the sea.
First to fight for right and freedom
And to keep our honor clear
We are proud to claim the title
Of "United States Marines."

Our flag's unfurled to every breeze
From dawn to setting sun.
We have fought in every clime and place
Where we could take a gun.
In the snow of far off northern lands
And in the tropic scenes,
You will always find us on the job—
The "United States Marines."

Here's health to you and to our Corps,
Which we are proud to serve;
In many a strife we've fought for life
And never lost our nerve—
If the Army and the Navy
Ever look on Heaven's scenes
They will find the streets are guarded by
The "United States Marines."

—MARINE HYMN

The United States Marine Corps are second to none on the whole Earth. It is so. The Corps admits it. The thing is a settled fact.

The "Gob", of course, is "crabby" about it. He remembers that there was once a time when the marine was nothing but a "Navy Policeman" put upon ships of war to make the "Blue Jackets" behave. It grinds the "Gob" to hear about the marvels of valor displayed by the Marine Corps. Nothing tempts him to go out and do a fine job of "marauding" so much as the presence of some boastful Marine.

Now the Navy, after many years of "watchful waiting" believes it sees some "Hope in Israel." A goodly bunch of the Corps have been down in Nicaragua for a long time attempting to corral General Sandino and his ragged bunch of natives. There have been more than a thousand of the "Brave Boys" on the job. They "in the tropic scenes", "where they could take a gun"; have been armed not only with rifle and bayonet, but with machine guns as well. They have been assisted by many airplanes and all to no avail. The wily Sandino eludes them again and again and once in a while a Marine has been shot to death by some of the revolutionists. To cap the climax the Corps has called for reinforcements!

"Why" said one "Gob" to me, "they have advertised that it only took a top sergeant and a couple of marines to settle any 'spiggoty' revolution what's the matter with 'em, that they have to have a 'General' and a thousand more marines to catch up with Sandino?" And then warming up to his subject, the outraged "Blue Jacket" continued: "Yes, and they despatched a great bombing plane on a non-stop rescue trip straight to the scene of the scrap. Huh! guess the Marine Corps will have to hire a new publicity agent after they get out of Nicaragua."

There's no use talking, the Marine Corps will have a lot of trouble explaining Sandino. It took a Kipling to explain "Fuzzy-Wuzzy."

STRAIN.

To do your work without "strain" is a habit that adds more than almost anything to human comfort and happiness. No work is too difficult if one can learn to do it without strain. Pep talkers urge you to jump into your jobs. There is a lot of bunk in pep talking. To do a thing deliberately, easily, with your feet on the ground will get you further than leaping at things.

PRETTY NURSES.

The pretty girl has to face a lot of criticism of one kind and another. She is supposed to be a total loss in intelligence because she is beautiful. It seems to be an accepted fallacy that if a stenographer or clerk or any kind of a young lady employe is pretty she must be dumb. Take your choice says the old tradition—efficiency with shiny nose or stupidity with beauty.

Comes now the president of the American Nurses' association, Miss Adda Eldredge and says pretty nurses are more effective than ones that

ALONG THE WAY

I know a man who failed in business 25 years ago. His wife then deserted him, taking their daughter. This man took humble bachelor quarters, and set about the business of repaying his creditors. He is an old man now, and nearly blind. He still lives very economically, wears threadbare clothes and works hard. He is still paying off his creditors, although he has no legal responsibility for those old debts. He will live just about long enough to repay the last cent. He is not at all bitter, but rather philosophically humorous.

* * *

I know a man who has stolen several fortunes, chiefly out of public treasuries. When he was a wealthy man he held a position of public trust, and stole a large part of a courthouse, which he built into a building of his own. He kept mobs and thieves and gunmen constantly under his orders, and had his enemies murdered or beaten up at will. When he went broke he found that he had not a true friend in the world, and he had to go into the bootlegging business in a distant city.

I once knew an ex-convict who robbed banks and postoffices whenever he needed money. He was well-educated, and he had traveled all over the world. He was a good writer of fiction, and could have made a good income from such work. When he robbed a bank he would come back to town and give away nearly all of his winnings to poor folk who did not know where my friend obtained his funds. This man was an interesting conversationalist and had many of the best qualities of a well-bred gentleman. He was killed by a Chicago policeman while escaping after a safe-blowing.

I know an intelligent woman who believes thoroughly in numerology. I know a man who loves his family but will not live at home. I know a man who used to stutter so much that he seldom talked. He is now one of our highest-paid lecturers. I know a famous cartoonist who is unhappy because he wants to write a play and can't, and a famous artist who is distressed because he thinks he can write, but nobody will agree with him. I know a successful business man who stole a section hand's wife, married her, and lived happily for 30 years.

Government Will Study Program In New Castle Schools

Platoon System Benefits In New Castle Will Be Studied By Experts

New Castle has been selected by the United States Department of Education as one of the cities in the country for an intensive study of the platoon system, according to Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of schools. The selection was made by Dr. John J. Tigert, United States Commissioner of Education who was here some months ago and addressed a group of teachers and citizens here.

On Thursday evening when the board of school directors holds a special meeting in the Franklin Junior high school, further recommendations in the Educational Program for New Castle schools will be made by Dr. Green.

The study by the United States Department of Education will be tied in with the program to be offered and th e board will discuss informally, what action it wishes to take with regard to the adoption of the program.

January Building Operations Increase

Building operations during January increased over the same months in 1926 and 1927, according to Neil Williams, municipal bureau of building. Construction commenced during January, 1928, is estimated to cost $85,065.

Nine new dwellings are being built at a cost of $58,600 and one wareroom will cost $20,000. Twelve garages, $2,975, one small building, $500 and one sign board at a cost of $75.00 are being constructed.

Five residences are being remodelled and three other small buildings are undergoing changes at a total of $2,915.

Civil Service Board Will Meet Today

Members of the civil service commission will meet this afternoon and pass on the papers, mental and physical, of candidates for positions on the city police force. Candidates who were successful in the mental test took physical examinations and when the successful applicants become known their names will be placed on the civil service commission's list as eligible should any vacancies occur.

Just Among Us Girls

Evangelist Crill's Subject Is Life

At the evangelistic services Tuesday evening in the First Free Methodist church Rev. Crill spoke on the subject of "Life." He took for his text "What Is Your Life". He stressed the brevity, responsibility, sacrifice and opportunity of life.

"It is even a vapour, that appeareth for a little time, and then vanisheth away." Like a shadow. As a weaver's shuttle. As a flower. A leaf. A sleep. A flood. As the young look forward, it looks like a long time to live; but as they advance in years, time seems to pass so much faster. What we do we must do quickly.

Man is a free moral agent. All he does is related to right or wrong. Our obligation to do right is founded upon the word of God. Devine revelation had shown what is right and what is wrong.

The basis of judgment is not only what we know, but what we might have known, had we sought to know God's will, and been obedient to the same.

The more light a man has the greater his sin and guilt, if he refuses to walk in that light.

Life is a sacrifice either way you take it. Luke 9:24: 'For whosoever will save his life shall loose it: but whosoever will loose his life for my sake, the same shall save it."

To live for God one must sacrifice the world, its pleasures and amusements. If we choose the world, we must sacrifice God, his favor and heaven.

The only opportunity for salvation is in this life. No chance after death. Between the rich man and Lazarus there was a great gulf fixed.

Life is the time of the sinner's joys and pleasures. And the time of trials and struggles for the righteous. The sinner's joys and the trials of the righteous will end with life.

In Day's News

Dr. Charles A. Eastman, who has gone to England to lecture to the school boys and girls of that country in the interest of the Brooks-Bright Foundation on the subject of Indian customs and their relations to the Caucasian, is a Sioux Indian chieftain and probably the foremost authority in America on Indian law and history. He is the author of a dozen books on Indian literature and lore. The career of Dr. Eastman has been interesting and varied. Born in Minnesota, the son of a Santee Sioux, he was graduated from Dartmouth College in 1887 and later attended Boston University. He was the representative and attorney for his tribe in Washington, and was later appointed United States Indian inspector. As national councilman of the Boy Scouts, Dr. Eastman has helped to organize Boy Scouts in many large cities of the country.

Receiving Mail Orders For Seats For Hit The Deck

Mail orders are now in order for the coming engagement of "Hit The Deck", Vincent Youmans' International nautical musical comedy success, which is scheduled for local presentation at the Scottish Rite Auditorium on Monday, February 13th.

For weeks past there has been much pleasurable anticipation over the coming of the new Youman musical show. The sensation created following its opening in New York and Chicago spread quickly over the country, and quickly brought to the Youmans' headquarters in New York hundreds of insistent demands from other cities for early bookings.

The "Hit The Deck" companies playing in New York and Chicago to crowded houses at every performance with no sign of a let-up in the demand for seats naturally will be held in these cities for many months to come.

To satisfy this demand from other cities for early bookings, while the music is still at the height of its vast popularity, Mr. Youmans has organized a special company, an exact duplicate in every way with those now running in New York and Chicago, which will be sent here.

He has provided a special orchestra to play the score and a large chorus of beautiful girls and male chorus of singers and dancers up to Broadway standards. He has engaged a cast that is in every way first class. It will feature that charming little artist known to all lovers of musical comedy, Marion Saki, and will include William McGurn, Virginia Hall, Juanita Chefalo, Ernie Mack, Freddie Lightner, George Scully, Marion Dayton, Leslie McLeod, Rita Carrita, the four Mason sisters, Granville Bates and A. H. Saite.

Reserve Officers Will Have Banquet

Major Burnside Of Sharon Will Speak To Gathering On Work Of Engineers

The regular dinner meeting of the Lawrence county chapter, Reserve Officers' Association of the United States, will be held Wednesday evening, Feb. 8, at 6:45 in the Elks Club, according to an announcement made this morning by Captain Melvin L. Craig.

As one of the principal speakers the association has been fortunate enough to engage Major Burnside of Sharon, who will speak on the engineers. Major Golden of Ellwood City will speak on ordnance. Captain Craig, whose talk will be in the nature of instruction, will lecture on "Care of Animals and Stable Management". Each officer who attends will receive credit toward his 300 hours of work necessary for promotion.

Cards have been sent to members of the association and it is the wish of Captain Craig that these be returned immediately, indicating whether or not the officer will attend the meeting. This is necessary, says Capt. Craig, in order that proper reservations may be made at the Elks Club.

are not. They are good to look at. They have the right effect on the patient. They help to cure. The superintendent of a Chicago hospital agrees with her.

So much for the nurses. Who'll speak for the others?

EXPLAINED AT LAST.

Temperament in opera singers and other musicians is explained at last. It's merely an overdose of music. One may not study to teach music for more than six years without feeling the effect on the nerves. No less an authority than Dr. Charles Mayo of Rochester, tells this to a Chicago association interested n civic concerts.

Music affects the nerves of the arms and legs. Why? Because those nerves have their center in the base of the brain where the auditory nerves are placed. That's why jazz tickles the feet.

Is the radio destined to make a nervous nation more nervous?

SALESMANSHIP.

This year is seeing the severest competition ever known in the automobile industry. Already clever salesmen are destined to develop into still smoother ones. The world grows increasingly competitive. Young fellows now in school or just out better recognize that fact. Not so easy to get by as it used to be. More expertness is constantly developed. This new competition in the motor world will do wonders for the brains of salesmen.

RELIGION—

Always makes an ill-fitting cloak.
Is a good armor for him who wears it with respect.
Has never been promoted by angry preaching.
Is one subject upon which every man thinks he knows something.
Is a counterfeit if it is building up barriers between men.
Survives controversies only when it serves human needs.
Has never been confined within the walls of any temple.

Unique Entertainment Feature At Noon Hour Session Of Kiwanians

No speaker was present today at the Kiwanis luncheon in the Elks club, the club devoting its time to the trial of two members, Rev. S. L. Maxwell and Alderman L. C. Mantz, each of whom was charged with having used the mails to besmirch the other.

The case was heard before Attorney Robert L. Wallace, who acted in the capacity of judge, with Attorney Thomas W. Dickey prosecuting and Attorneys H. A. Wilkison and James K. Love doing the defending or something. Witnesses called were Henry Goldberg and James A. Mayberry. Judges Hildebrand and Chambers acted in the capaciay of amicus couri.

Both men were found guilty as it was thought they would be sentenced to sing. The punishment on the club was the worst feature of it all.

Good Work Done In Opportunity Class

Backward Scholars Helped In Class By Manual And Mental Work

Twelve backward scholars from different parts of the city have been placed in an opportunity class in the Lincoln-Garfield school with Miss Phyllis Beal as teacher and under the oversight of the principal of the school, James M. Hughes, they are learning lessons from the ordinary text books as well as many useful lessons in manual work.

Mr. Hughes says that these pupils have been placed here because of their being backward in their regular classes and thus by placing them in the opportunity class they can be given more individual attention to help them along in their work and also they do not hold back the class which they would normally be in.

Two members of the class were promoted to the Junior High school this semester while others may be able to go on in regular classes after work for several months here.

Special attention is given by Miss Beal in their lessons from the text book and with constant drill and repetition they finally have learned their lessons well. Arithmetic seems to be the bugbear of most of the scholars.

In manual work progress seems more encouraging as they learn to weave rugs, make baskets, do woodwork, raffia work, make hats and rugs, etc., of yarn, work in clay, beads and sewing, make stuffed toys, etc. Even the boys learn to do fancy work of different kinds.

The Daybook OF A New Yorker

BY BURTON RASCOE

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—Greenwich Villagers, I think, may be divided into three classes. These are: those who are moving, those who are to move within the week, and those who have moved within the week. But the combination of roving temperament and slim pocketbook is irreconcilable with heavy freight charges. Quaint devices result. The ingenious and ingenuous Bohemian moves via taxi, street car, wheelbarrow or on foot. And the latter is the most popular method. No garment, no household furnishing is too intimate to be carried in broad daylight by these artless folk. The other evening I was beguiled by the sight of a young man walking happily up Fifth avenue, near Washington Square. Under one arm he carried a mattress, in the other a bedspring. And his head was held high under a column of some half dozen hats, the last of which was a top hat.

* * *

A sidewalk merchant was holding a sizeable audience next to the Columbia burlesque show. Two young toughs approached.

"C'mon. There ain't nothin' there," one of them said, disgustedly. "He's probably sellin' socks!"

"Not with that mob, he ain't sellin' socks," his companion snorted.

So they stopped to watch. The man was actually selling socks. The slightest diversion will draw a mob on Broadway. Loafers still amuse themselves by staring fixedly at the sky and then stepping back and watching hilariously as others follow suit. The trick never fails.

* * *

New Yorkers do have simple tastes. Everywhere one finds pushcart merchants doing a rousing business in fat pretzels, apples, oranges, three-cent lemonade, five-cent hot dogs and even poppyseed rolls. I can't imagine anyone but Ben Franklin on his uppers deliberately making away with a bare poppyseed roll, but apparently there are folk who require no more.

Near the Battery I saw three well-dressed women nonchalantly attacking large pretzels as they strolled up Broadway. Intermittently each fished one out of a paper bag which the woman in the center carried.

This section of town seems to be characterized by hordes of sandwich men, those down-and-outers who amble about within bright billboards, front and rear. Most of them are advertisements for ten-minute photographers who make quick pictures to be used on passports. The custom house is nearby, and so there are about five such studios in every block.

* * *

A sign in an upper Broadway delicatessen: "Annual sale of Imported Russian Caviar Now in Progress." I wonder whether they have had the delicacy in stock all year?

Beginners At School Have First Lessons

Grade 1B At Lincoln-Garfield School Learn Their First Words

Several little tots at the Lincoln-Garfield school were being put through their first reading lesson by Miss May Blackwood as they eagerly reviewed the story of "Little Bo Peep" yesterday afternoon.

Miss Blackwood with much patience tells the story in detail and then reviews the story with the little six-year-olds, asking them what Little Bo Peep lost, etc. Lessons in nature and industry are also introduced as the way sheep are raised and the products of wool and mutton were discussed.

Then finally a drill on five words used in the lesson were used so that children might recognize the words as they were pointed to on the board or held up to their view printed on cards. One new word was initiated during the lesson.

But along with the ordinary processes of the class work was the teaching of order and manners such as not speaking until permission was given, getting out of the right side of the desk and sitting erect with the hands placed just so as their attention was given to the teacher and the one reciting.

Also 18 new children were received into the kindergarten of the school by the teachers, Miss Doris Sutfin and Miss Ida Cohen. These with the ones in attendance last semester make a total of 43 tiny boys and girls of 4½ or 5 years of age. During the afternoon these tots are taught lessons, and work, games, music, etc. Some of those received here as well as in the first grade have not yet learned English.

Strange Story Of High Finance Told Oil Investigators

Sinclair Oil Company Signs Guarantee For Unknown Concern For Fifty Million

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—A strange story of high finance, in which the directors of the Sinclair Crude Oil company signed a $50,000,000 guarantee for the Continental Trading company without ever having heard of the latter concern, was told the Senate Public Lands committee today by A. L. Carlson, a Sinclair director, at the new Teapot Dome investigation.

Carlson said the board of directors of the Sinclair company had never heard of the Continental but signed the guarantee because Harry F. Sinclair and Robert W. Stewart had approved it. This testimony definitely linked Sinclair and Stewart to Continental.

The purpose of the Senate's investigation is to learn what became of a $3,080,000 Liberty bond fund once held by the Continental.

Peace Hath Her Heroes---

OPEN LETTER

To the Theatre Goers of New Castle

Dear Patron:—

When you saw Karl Dane and George K. Arthur in their hilarious training camp comedy, "Rookies," you probably made up your mind at that time not to miss their second co-starring feature.

Well, here it is—and it is a laugh from start to finish. We've just had a private showing of "Baby Mine" in the theatre and we laughed so much and liked it so well that we just couldn't wait until you received this letter announcing its appearance at the Capitol Theatre, beginning tomorrow.

It's a temptation to describe the picture in detail, but to do so would certainly detract from your enjoyment. It opens with Karl Dane and George K. Arthur as two rah-rah boys in the National University of Vertebral Manipulation, the former's marriage and the latter's mistaken efforts to supply him with a baby after he had announced such an arrival in order to escape an embarrassing situation. As Oswald (Karl Dane) remarked: "One baby would have been cute—two wouldn't have been so bad—but three is carrying things too far!"

"Baby Mine" is positively one of the funniest pictures ever made! Come prepared to laugh your way through it. Also 3 stage acts. Other features: orchestra, organ.

Very truly yours,
CAPITOL THEATRE,
Chas. Freeman, Mgr.

Every Mentioned Book Is In Local Library

As a general rule best sellers, properly so-called, have a very hard time in finding their way into a library. There are exceptions, however, that prove the case, and one of these exceptions is the New Castle Public Library.

The Bookman, a periodical devoted to books and their authors, long ago installed a monthly score by which people could check up on the popularity of certain books. Results coming from watch towers all over the country are compiled by the staff and the results issued in the magazine. At the New Castle Library every book that appears in the February score is on the shelves.

The librarians believe that this occurrence is rather singular, and they believe that the citizens should again have an opportunity to clip a check list of these books.

Fiction

A Good Woman, Louis Bromfield; Jalna, Mazo, de la Roche; Kitty, Warwick Deeping; Death Comes for the Archbishop, Willa Cather; The Grandmothers, Glenway Wescott; Dutsy Answer, Rosamund Lehmann; Elmer Gantry, Sinclair Lewis; God and the Groceryman, Harold Bell Wright; Sorell and Son, Warwick Deeping; Barberry Bush, Kathleen Norris; An American Tragedy, Theodore Dreiser; Wallflowers, Temple Bailey.

Horn and Ethelreda Lewis; Mother India, Katharine Mayo; "We", Charles Lindbergh; The Story of Philosophy, Will Durant; Napoleon, Emil Ludwig; The Royal Road to Romance, Richard Halliburton; The Glorious Adventure, Richard Halliburton; Revolt in the Desert, T. (Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON Feb. 1. — Working smoothly again, New Wilmington High basketball team defeated the East Brook High school team 62-17 in a brilliant, hard-fought game here yesterday evening. Despite the overwhelming defeat recorded against them on the score board, the East Brook players showed up well.

In the final two periods the East Brook five tried vainly to break up the scoring spree of Wiggins' team. Hutchison with 15 baskets and Eagleson with 8 stood out in the play of the local quintet. Kwiat, captain of the visitors, was the star of his team and accounted for 12 of its 17 points.

What Is This Mysterious Substance In Liver That Restores the Weak, Thin-Blooded People to Robust Health?

The price of liver has gone up in New York, Baltimore, Detroit and in other cities where physicians keep abreast of times.

There's a reason.

For if you don't know—You ought to know—that science has discovered in beef and calves liver a "Mysterious Substance" that by actual test has succeeded in restoring to good health thousands of weak, thin-blooded, worn-out people.

So leading physicians the country over are advising their run-down thin blooded patients to eat more liver for better health, more energy and greater vitality.

So wonderfully efficient is this "Mysterious Substance" that in many hospitals that dread disease, Pernicious Anemia, has been successfully treated and overcome.

The "Mysterious Substance" in liver is something like the vitamines extracted from Cod Liver Oil, but most scientific investigators claim for it even greater potency and rejuvenating power.

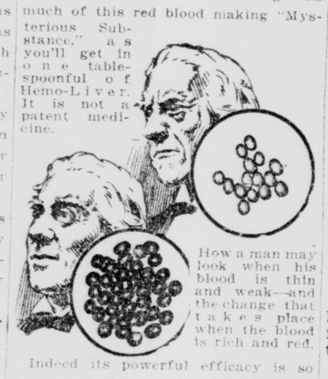

But getting into the system this potent "Mysterious Substance" by eating liver is recognized as a slow process—too slow for the average eager American who wants to get well speedily.

So one of the best known laboratories in America, after prolonged experiments, succeeded in extracting from fresh beef liver the vital elements and put this extract in concentrated form, very palatable and even pleasant to the taste.

And rundown, thin-blooded, sickly men, women and children have taken this concentrated elixir which has been named Hemo-Liver and have regained their health and strength.

Hundreds of physicians are prescribing it. You can go to any druggist who is at all progressive today and get a big 12-ounce bottle of Hemo-Liver that will last you eight days.

A tablespoonful is a dose and you'll have to eat a lot of liver to get as much of this red blood making "Mysterious Substance," as you'll get in one tablespoonful of Hemo-Liver. It is not a patent medicine.

How a man may look when his blood is thin and weak—and the change that takes place when the blood is rich and red.

Indeed its powerful efficacy is so apparent that one bottle, or eight days' treatment, often brings such a big improvement in health that both patient and Doctor are astonished.

Its success as a maker of rich blood and to bring strength, vigor and vitality to those who are anemic and run down is so certain that pharmacists sell it with the distinct understanding that if one bottle does not help you—wonderfully—your money will be refunded.

What is this "Mysterious Substance"—? No one seems to now—but as one great New York newspaper stated editorially—

"The secret of how this "Mysterious Substance" rejuvenates the corpuscle factory still eludes the searchers but the victim of the disease will not worry about that. What matters to him is that now he can be cured."

STUDEBAKER

The Great Independent

Behind every Studebaker and Erskine car are $105,000,000 in actual net assets and great modern research and engineering facilities.

Behind Studebaker Performance Records —engineering genius!

AS a result of the engineering genius in Studebaker motor cars, Studebaker now holds the highest endurance and speed records (from 1 to 25,000 miles) for fully equipped stock cars regardless of power or price. Headed by D. Roos, Studebaker's engineering staff leads the industry in point of actual achievement.

It is the work of genius to produce such a car as The Studebaker Commander—the car that went 25,000 miles in less than 23,000 minutes. Nothing else on earth ever ran so far so fast. Studebaker engineering genius is reflected, too, in the increase of the power of The Studebaker Dictator from 45 to 70 h.p.—with greater economy of operation—and with no increase in price.

Constantly kept up-to-date

During the past three years Studebaker engineers have adopted such advancements as the magazine lubricating system; thermostatic cooling system; no-draft ventilating windshield; engine thermometer on dash; full-vision welded steel bodies; coincidental lock to steering and ignition, etc. Some of these improvements were pioneered by Studebaker and are still exclusive Studebaker features.

Studebaker engineers have provided such an ingenious lubricating system that you need change oil but once every 2500 miles.

And now, as a result of advanced engineering, Studebaker and Erskine cars may be driven 40-miles-per-hour the day they are delivered. No more tedious "breaking-in" at 20-mile speed.

Studebaker spends millions to make sure

Engineering and laboratory facilities for experimentation and research are of the utmost importance. Studebaker provides its brilliant staff of research men headed by W. S. James, former section chief of the U. S. Bureau of Standards, with the most complete facilities that money can buy.

In Studebaker's laboratories technicians test all raw materials. Over the diversified roads and grades of Studebaker's million-dollar Proving Ground, Studebaker and Erskine models are driven in extended tests of speed and mechanical endurance.

Studebaker gives more; costs less

Because Studebaker builds bodies, engines and chassis for Studebaker cars, profits of outside manufacturers are reduced to a minimum. These savings are passed on to you in the form of higher quality materials and the highest type of precision workmanship—at a low One-Profit price.

Before you buy a car, take the wheel of one of the new Studebakers. It will reveal the most advanced engineering of 1928 combined with Studebaker's 76-year-old traditions of quality.

Edmund Connelly Given High Honor

Edmund B. Connelly, who is associated with his father E. F. Connelly, 501 Lawrence Savings and Trust Company building, in the insurance business, has just acquired a membership in the President's Club of the Travelers Insurance Company, of Hartford, Conn., of which he is a representative.

This is an unusual honor, because only those, who have produced enough business in each of five lines of insurance to entitle them to membership in the producers clubs of the respective lines of insurance, are entitled to membership in the President's Club, which was inaugurated for the super-insurance sales agents of the company by President Butler.

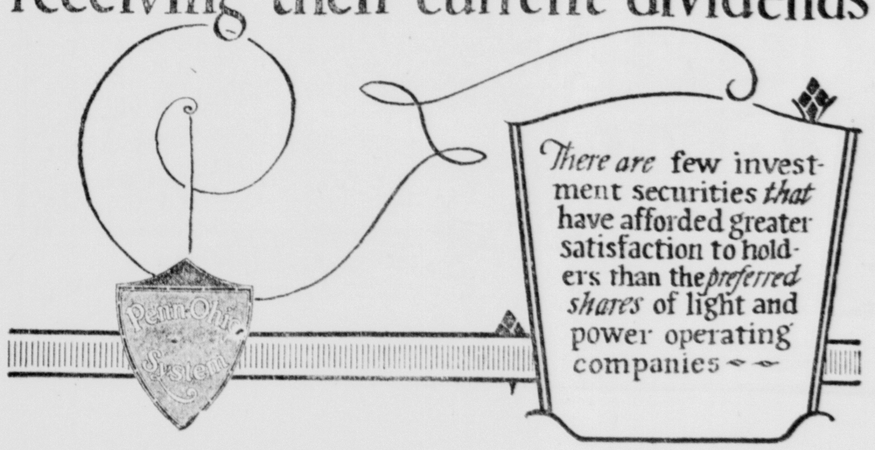

Mr. Connelly acquired this honor by the new business produced from January 1 to December 31, 1927 and which entitled him to membership in the Auto Producers Club, Life Producers Club, Accident and Health Producers Club, Burglary Insurance Producers Club and the Group Insurance Producers Club.

He is the fifty-second person to be accorded this honor, in the United States and Canada and receives a gold emblem and the privilege of attending the convention of the company in Hartford, Conn., in June as the guest of President Butler. He is the youngest man ever accorded the honor and comes as a result of his untiring efforts in his line of business.

All Night Parking Of Autos Banned

Parking of automobiles and other vehicles on the streets and highways of the city between 1 a. m. and 6 a. m. is now a violation of an ordinance which is in effect.

Under its provisions the car can be towed to a garage and the owner compelled to pay towing and rental charge and if he refuses he can be fined, or sent to the county jail.

In introducing the bill, Councilman Reeves desired the downtown business district be closed to parking so streets could be cleaned between midnight and 6 a. m.

Later councilmen decided that the ordinance should include every street and highway in the city.

The ordinance in effect, says:

Streets here are narrow and congested and it is necessary to clean streets at night.

To do this all automobiles must be removed from streets between the hours of 1 a. m. and 6 a. m.

Numerous local persons and strangers park their cars in streets all night, which is dangerous to public travel.

It is unlawful hereafter for parking in any street or highway between 1 a. m. and 6 a. m., unless—a special permit is received from the mayor and approved by the superintendent of the department of streets and highways. When any officer of the city finds a car parked in violation of the ordinance he can cause it to be removed.

The removal and storage of the car expense will be charged to the owner of the car, the ordinance continues.

Immunization For Diphtheria Given School Children

Children Of City And County Schools Are Receiving Preventative Treatment

Immunization of the children of the schools of the city and county against diphtheria was started this morning according to announcement by Dr. H. C. Harper, medical director of Lawrence county.

Last year over 1300 school children in the city and county were immunized against diphtheria by the toxin anti-toxin method of treatment, each one of these having received the 3 innoculations at intervals. Dr. Harper announces that not one child that had the three innoculations last year has developed diphtheria, which speaks volumns for this preventative measure.

This year it is hoped that most of those who did not take the innoculations last year may take them this year and thus this dread disease of children be entirely stamped out. Dr. Harper says that those that took the entire three innoculations last year will not need to take them again this year as one immunization makes them immune from the disease for their entire school life and for a long time afterwards.

School and state nurses are distributing blank forms to the children that have not yet been immunized. These forms are to be signed by the children's parents, giving permission for the child to take the toxin anti-toxin treatment. The cooperation of the parents of the children in this treatment that is given without expense to them is earnestly requested by the Health department as every effort is being made to eradicate this disease from the county and that can be done only by the cooperation of the parents. Dr. Harper says that very few parents object to the administration of the preventative treatment as there is no argument against its use and every valuation is given for it as a preventative of diphtheria.

Statistics show in the county and city that diphtheria was much more prevalent than the present school year after which so many children have been immunized. Throughout the school year of 1926-27 there were 15 cases of diphtheria reported in the county while thus far this year only 3 cases have been reported, and the time of the year when the disease is the most prevalent is in the fall months of the school year, said Dr. Harper.

Permission has been given the Health department by the Boards of School Controllers and all school officials are giving their best cooperation to root out the disease. The superintendents of the city and county schools also are giving their cooperation to the administration of the treatment.

The Toxin anti-toxin treatment has been endorsed by the American Medical association, the United States army and navy, the State Medical association, the Lawrence County Health association and the Pennsylvania Department of Health, this latter organization providing the treatment free of charge.

HARRISBURG, Feb. 1.—Gov. John S. Fisher is in daily touch with the situation in the Western Pennsylvania bituminous fields and is watching each of several investigations by state departments he is not yet ready, he said, to personally take a hand in the situation, however.

Agents of the Health Department have been in the field constantly investigating charges that filth and disease are rampant and that hundreds of evictions of striking miners' families from their homes have aggravated sanitary conditions.

Reports that state troopers have shown partiality to operators have been made to Maj. Lynn G. Adams of the state police, the governor said. At the present time "the result of these investigations cannot be made public," he added.

Hickman-Hunt Case Granted Delay By Judge Hardy Today

(International News Service)

COURTROOM, LOS ANGELES, Feb. 1.—William Edward Hickman was a gambler for his life a second time today.

Within 50 feet of the courtroom where Hickman is on trial for the kidnaping and murder of Marion Parker he faced another bar of justice this morning on a second murder charge.

With Welby Hunt, 16-year-old Kansas City youth, Hickman appeared before Superior Judge Carlos S. Hardy to answer for the slaying of C. Ivy Thoms in a drug store hold-up here on Christmas eve, 1926.

Because Hickman already is on trial for the kidnaping and slaying of the Parker girl the case against him and Hunt was continued.

Judge Hardy reset the trial of Hickman and Hunt for February 15.

Man And Woman Get Prison Sentences For Auto Thefts

Homer O'Neal And Mrs. Gladys Barron Sentenced To Federal Prisons

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 1.—Homer O'Neal, 27, of Conneautville, and Mrs. Gladys Barron, 27, of Adamsville were sentenced to serve terms in the federal penitentiary today by Federal Judge F. P. Schoonmaker.

O'Neal and Mrs. Barron were charged with the touring throughout the country for three months in stolen automobiles. O'Neal is said to have deserted his wife and two children.

O'Neal was sentenced to serve four years in the Atlanta penitentiary and Mrs. Barron was given a two-year sentence in a prison to be announced later. Both pleaded guilty when arraigned on charges of stealing automobiles.

The couple started their tour last June. At one time they reached the Pacific coast. They were arrested last September.

O'Neal was reported to have been under parole from the Western penitentiary on a sentence of receiving stolen goods. He will have to complete that term for breaking his parole after he serves his federal penitentiary sentence.

Drain Mouth Plugged; Property Is Damaged; Equity Suit Results

Controversy over a water way in Oakland is being heard by Judge Chambers in Lawrence county court today in an equity suit brought by Joseph Toman against Frank Wolanin. It is claimed by the plaintiff that for 21 years or more there has been a water way across property owned by him at No. 18 Fern street. This water way was walled in and was about 18 inches square. It also led through the property of the defendant. It is charged that the defendant, Wolanin, piled stones on James street, where the drain takes off from that street through the property of Toman. This caused the water to run over Toman's property, washing it and damaging it to a considerable extent. Decision will be given later.

State's Treasury Balance Highest For Many Years

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Feb. 1.—Swollen by unusually heavy collections for the general fund and automobile license receipts, the state's treasury balance today reached the new high total of $65,071,104 in all funds.

The complete treasury statement made public by Samuel S. Lewis, state treasurer, for the close of business January 31, showed that the general fund carried in excess of $31,000,000 and the motor license fund more than $23,000,000.

Total receipts during the month were $18,655,528, while total payments were $8,500,567.

SENATOR DAVID A. REED CANDIDATE FOR RE-ELECTION

U. S. SENATOR DAVID A. REED

(Special To The News)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Feb. 1.—United States Senator David A. Reed today formally announced himself as a candidate for re-election as senator from Pennsylvania. Senator Reed, who is 49 years of age, has served one full term as one of the two Pennsylvania senators and submits his candidacy on his record in the United States senate during his service there.

Senator Reed is a Pittsburgher by birth, being the son of the late Judge James H. Reed and Katherine J. Aiken Reed. He prepared for college at Shadyside academy, graduated from Princeton in 1900 and from the law school of the University of Pittsburgh in 1903. In 1915 he enrolled in the Plattsburg training school and in 1917 was one of the first to enroll in the officers' training school at Fort Niagara, N. Y. He went to France as a major of field artillery in the 311th regiment.

During his law practice from 1903 to 1911 he studied the industrial systems in vogue in other countries and in 1915, as a result of his study and preparation of a bill, the state of Pennsylvania adopted the workmen's compensation act now in vogue.

On August 8, 1922, David A. Reed was appointed United States senator by Governor William C. Sproul to succeed the late Senator William E. Crowe, who was then serving out the unexpired term of the late Senator Philander C. Knox. In November of the same year he was elected to the unexpired term and the full term of six years beginning January 1, 1923.

As a member of the United States senate, Senator Reed has rendered valiant service to his home state. He is chairman of the senate committee on military affairs, and a member of the finance and foreign relations committee. On these committees he is recognized as an authority and his remarkable capacity for work stamps him as one of the hardest working senators in Washington.

Senator Reed opposed the proceedings against Senator-elect William S. Vare and in this matter said: "A majority of the senate has refused to accord Pennsylvania the equal representation in that body to which the constitution entitles her. A seat has been denied to Senator-elect Vare, who was duly and regularly elected as one of Pennsylvania's representatives. I have opposed this unconstitutional procedure with all my strength and will continue to do so."

As an authority on the protective tariff Senator Reed has attained nation-wide prominence and has at all times sponsored and favored legislation designed to protect the industries of the state of Pennsylvania.

He was the chairman of the committee of the senate which investigated the mismanagement of the Veterans' bureau and he later sponsored legislation which extended larger benefits to ex-service men and their dependents.

He has served his state well and submits his candidacy to the people of his state with the confidence that his record for the past six years is one to which his state can point with pride.

LOCAL PEOPLE ARE DISCUSSING DEMONSTRATION

Great Interest Shown In Ten Herbs; Well-Known Man Speaks

Many suffering people in this section have taken on new hope since the recent announcement that the great natural medicine, Ten Herbs, which is giving astonishing relief in numerous large cities, is now to be introduced here at Eckerd's of New

MR. C. E. FORREST

Castle, Inc., 30 E. Washington Street, New Castle. This successful medicine consists of ten herbal ingredients, which cleanse the human system and drives out poisonous waste matter and impurities, which may have been collecting in the body for a long time, and which cause so much misery. Thousands have proved its worth as a medicine for the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, and many are praising it in the public press.

"My stomach was so badly disordered that at times I could not retain food," said Mr. G. E. Forrest, 630 Lehigh Avenue, Lancaster, Pa., in a recent statement. "Nearly everything I ate caused sourness, fermentation and gas in my stomach," continued Mr. Forrest, who is well known in his locality. "Sometimes even a glass of water would put me in distress. I had sharp pains near my kidneys. If I stooped over and raised up quickly, these pains would cut me like a knife. I was nervous, and my sleep was restless. My liver was inactive, and I felt tired all the time.

"Ten Herbs certainly gave good results in my case. It put my stomach in such good condition that I can now eat hearty meals without having any sign of indigestion. My nerves, kidneys and bowels have been improved. Your splendid medicine seems to have cleansed my entire system, and all aches and pains are gone."

The Ten Herbs Man has arrived here, and has taken personal charge of the preparations for the public introduction of this great natural compound, which will begin at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 E. Washington Street, New Castle, at 9 o'clock tomorrow, Thursday, morning. Starting at that time daily thereafter, the Ten Herbs Man will personally meet the public and explain this new medicine, as well as pass out literature and free samples.

MAKES BODY TRANSPARENT

That he has invented a method by which the human body can be made as transparent as glass is claimed by Dr. Tours, a French doctor. He says that by his new device the organs of the body can be seen working as if in a mirror. Some experts declare that the invention surpasses X-rays in value, that it will revolutionize the practice of both medicine and surgery. Dr. Tours has announced that he intends to reveal the secrets of his discovery shortly.

"President Hoover" Is Term Used By Coolidge In Talk

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—President Coolidge in talking with friends inadvertently referred to Secretary of Commerce Hoover as "President Hoover." Mr. Coolidge apparently did not realize his mistake and did not correct himself.

The President said he has no information whether Hoover, a leading presidential candidate will remain in or leave the cabinet.

Oh, sure! Let's build two hundred battleships. Then we can offer to junk ten every time other nations junk one.

Milton A. Bickett Is Candidate For General Assembly

Announces Candidacy For Re-election From Second District Of Lawrence County

MILTON A. BICKETT

I present my candidacy to the people of Lawrence County to succeed myself as Representative in the General Assembly from the Second District of Lawrence County.

I believe that the people in the Second Representative District of Lawrence County are familiar with my record in the past, as I supported, at all times, legislation for the improvement of the Public School System in both Rural and City Districts; also, took a keen interest in the promotion of better roads in Lawrence County and, during the Session of 1927, I was a member of the important Committee on Public Roads in the House. Through the efforts of my colleagues and myself, in the two (2) Omnibus Bills of 1925 and 1927, there was added over thirty-three (33) miles of County Roads to the State Highway System. I not only supported but worked for better and cleaner politics in Pennsylvania. Also, supported to the utmost of my ability appropriations for State College.

I believe in the enforcement of all laws and stand firmly on my past record.

I assure the people of the Second District of Lawrence County that, if nominated and elected to represent them, I will, to the utmost of my ability, endeavor to promote the best interests of Lawrence County.

Unique Feature With Army Band

Singing Congressman To Be Soloist At Performances In New Castle

Rarely history discloses, do musicians become preeminent politically The temperament required to rise high in the respective fields are not usually combined.

Outstanding contemporary exceptions are to be found in Vice President Dawes, Speaker Longworth Paderewski and Mussolini. But, on the musician's side these men are all instrumentalists and since their rise in public life, only are heard to perform on their own various instruments infrequently and privately.

So that when the Hon.. Clifton A. Woodrum congressman from Virginia appears as soloist with the U. S. Army band next Monday February 6 at the Scottish Rite auditorium a treat is afforded probably unparalleled in musical history. To make the situation more unique Representative Woodrum unlike his distinguished contemporaries—is not an instrumental but a vocal soloist.

Congressman Woodrum's vocal attainments are nationally known and appreciated. He has been heard many times on stellar radio programs with musicians of international renown.

His voice is well known to members of congress whom he has led in musical exercises at the closing of each session every year since he became a national legislator. His decision to make flying trips from the lawmaking halls to appear on occasions with the U. S. Army band attests his profound appreciation of the high musicianship and prestige of the internationally famed military organization. He is able to make a few appearances only with the band and New Castle is indeed fortunate and honored to have him appear as soloist in their concerts here.

So extensive have the congressman's musical interest been that he has become nationally known as "The Singing Congressman."

Over Three Hundred Planes Added To Air Fleet During 1927

(International News Service)

ALBANY, Feb. 1.—The army added 391 planes to its air fleet in 1927, F. Trubee Davison, assistant secretary of war for aviation, told the Albany Kiwanis club Tuesday in a review of military aviation for the year.

The new equipment included 130 training planes; 26 huge bombers; 19 amphibian observation craft; 76 attack machines; 80 observation, and 52 pursuit planes.

Aircraft design was steadily improved, and the army kept abreast of every advance, he said. Tactical science and air strategy progressed step for step with mechanical technology. Increased training facilities assure adequate personnel for the five-year expansion program now under way. The program calls for 1,8000 ships and 1,650 flying officers by the end of 1932.

Davison described the opening of the new military aviation laboratories at Dayton, O., as the outstanding achievement of the year in the field of scientific aviation research. The San Francisco-Honolulu non-stop flight of Lieutenants Maitland and Hegenberger last August was the army's most brilliant achievement off the ground.

"The army laboratories have done much for aviation," Davison said. "Improvements of untold value to military as well as commercial aviation have been perfected in the army test rooms. Notable among these contributions are the radio beacon and the earth-induction compass. These, as they become more perfect, will reduce or perhaps eliminate many of the hazzards of trans-oceanic flying.

School Children Contribute Aid

But Agency Fails To Visit Rose School To Collect Contributions

Social workers, like everyone else, are likely to err. And up at the Rose avenue school there is mute evidence almost filling one entire corner of the principal's office that this generalization is not false.

A long time ago, it seems, says Miss Iretta Dart, the principal, someone of the social workers in the city called up the school and asked if the children would not bring old clothes to school with them so that those more unfortunate could be helped. A teacher took the message and forgot to get the name of the worker, her telephone number of the name of the agency which she representd.

An appeal was issued to the pupils and they responded with many things: shoes, coats, hats, caps, shirts, trousers and even a bathrobe, all were piled in a corner of the office waiting the arrival of a truck from the agency to remove them. But the truck never came, and so they are still in the principal's office and can be had for the asking.

Yes, they do look rather messy on the floor like that, says Miss Dart, but she is sure that the agency will remember soon and remove them.

Salvation Army Soup Kitchen Open

Many People Are Assisting In Making The Place Possible

Soup kitchen of the Salvation Army in the Salvation Army store on the public square in the Hoyt building opened today. It is planned that it will meet the problem of the unfortunate without funds and hungry.

Soup and coffee will be provided for the hungry wayfarer, also the destitute of the city, who need something to eat.

The store and soup kitchen of the army has been made possible by the donation of the use of the storeroom by A. C. Hoyt, the gas used by the Manufacturers Light & Heat company, the electricity by the Pennsylvania Power company and the meat by the National Market.

Articles at the store are given free of charge to those in need of the same and persons desiring to give articles of clothing may send or leave them at the store on the public square, if possible; if not, a call at Bellp phone 829-J will get in touch with Adjutant E. J. Parkins, who will get the articles as soon as his many duties permit him.

Rev. W. E. McClure Writes Article For Publication

Rev. Walter E. McClure, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of this city has been highly commended for the excellent article "The Great Work of the Pastor-Teacher" of which he is the author which appears in the February issue of the Moody Bible Institute Monthly, Chicago.

The editor's comment on the article as sent to the New Castle News follows:

"Evangelists now must be teachers as well as exhorters, and for this many do not possess the gift of the preparation, and even if they would not have the time to engage in it during a campaign. But let pastors act on the sound advice of Mr. McClure, and the next decade will show the result. Evangelism will have its place then, and once more the song of the reaper will be heard in the land."

Compare CHRYSLER "72" against the field
... Bar none

In all the brilliant chronicle of Chrysler, no car has so keenly delighted a great and growing host of owners as the Illustrious New Chrysler "72"—a car so remarkable in quality and performance that, at its low price, nothing like its value can be found anywhere.

In Chrysler's triumphant march from 27th to 3rd place in sales in 42 months, the "72" has played a most significant part.

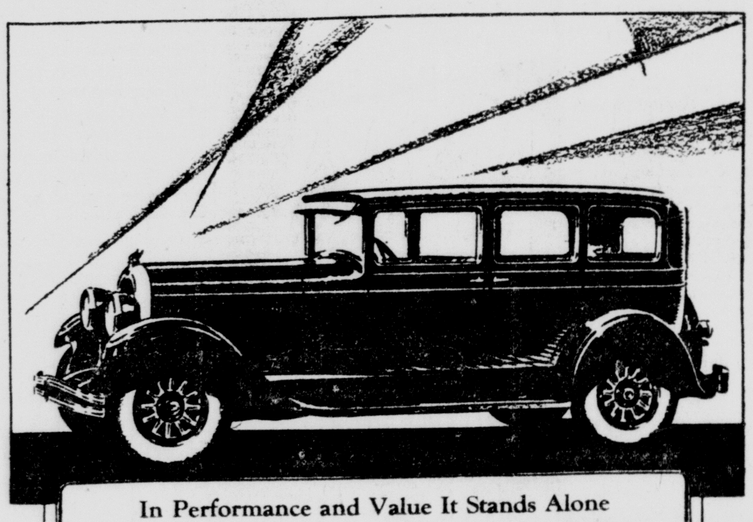

In the Illustrious New Chrysler "72"—longer, roomier, faster, handsomer—Chrysler Standardized Quality excels even Chrysler in performance, in comfort, in appearance, in appointments.

The 75 horsepower engine with counterweighted seven-bearing crankshaft—delivers 72 and more miles an hour with ease. It flashes instantly away in traffic.

Equipped with rubber shock insulators in place of metal shackles, it rides with a new measure of comfort, safety and smoothness over the roughest roads.

Test the Illustrious New "72" in every conceivable manner. Then you will appreciate just how much wider is the gap which the Chrysler "72" places between itself and all others selling within hundreds of dollars of its price.

New Chrysler "Red-Head" Engine—designed to take full advantage of high-compression gas, is standard equipment on the roadsters of the "52," "62," "72" and on all models of the New 112 h. p. Imperial "80." It is also available, at slight extra cost, for all other current body types. For a reasonable charge it can be applied to earlier Chrysler cars now in use.

In Performance and Value It Stands Alone

Illustrious New "72" — Two-pass. Coupe (with rumble seat), $1545; Royal Sedan, $1595; Sport Roadster (with rumble seat), $1595; Four-passenger Coupe, $1595; Town Sedan, $1695; Convertible Coupe (with rumble seat), $1745; Crown Sedan, $1795. *All prices f. o. b. Fisher Will Not Discuss Vacancy In U. S. Senate

Until Vacancy Occurs Governor Intends To Remain Silent Question

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Feb. 1.—Governor John S. Fisher admitted Tuesday that the possibility of a vacancy in the United States senate has been mentioned in recent conferences he has held with political leaders but asserted that until it occurs, if at all, "it is futile to discuss it."

"Like everyone else about the capitol I have heard discussion of the subject," the governor said, "but I certainly have not made, nor do I intend to make any committments ot it."

The possibility of a gubernatorial appointment to the senate is unfounded only upon the possibility that Senator-Elect W. S. Vare will be refused a seat finally and that such refusal will come too late to permit him to become a candidate in the next election.

Rose Avenue Pupils Leave With Regret

School Magazine Expresses Regret Of Class Being Promoted Higher

Although new pupils are arriving to fill up the seats left vacant by those who have gone to junior high school, Miss Iretta Dart, principal of the Rose avenue school, still has time to muse over the ones who have gone.

"In many ways," comments Miss Dart, "the out-going class was one of the best and most intelligent that we have had. Particularly did I like their issue of "Rose Leaves," a school paper. And I can believe that the dedicatory poem, which was used as the frontispiece, is one of the best that could be done by small children."

The poem, thinks Miss Dart, should be published. It follows:

ROSE AVENUE

The nicest school, the city through,
Is our own school, "Rose Avenue".
Our teachers are the very best;
The pick of all, from East to West.

In all our classes and in gym,
The things we do are done with vim;
For every one who really tries,
Sees brightest sunshine, clearest skies.

When comes the day that training brings
The right to step to greater things,
May we look back with pride to view
Those happy days at Rose Avenue.

Urge Installation Of Voting Machines In Pennsylvania

(International News Service)

SCRANTON, Pa., Feb. 1.—Several hundred persons, a majority of them women, appeared before the state election commission in the Chamber of Commerce building here Tuesday and strongly urged passage of legislation that will provide for installation of voting machines throughout Pennsylvania.

Mrs. Humphreys Relates Local Colony Doings In St. Cloud, Florida

Editor, The News,
New Castle, Pa.
Dear Sir,

If the society reporter were about this morning she might have an item reading something like this, "Mrs. Humphreys of Wyoming Avenue entertained informally last evening, the guests being the members of the fishing party, etc., etc."

The party, a very enjoyable affair, was not by pre-arrangement, and was in the nature of a sort of feast of thanksgiving for deliverance from the jinx that seems to be pursuing us in our excursions to Brick Lake lately. This is one of the few lakes which cannot be seined and is therefore a favorite resort of anglers, although it is nine miles from every place and off the public road.

Yesterday, eight including Mr. and Mrs. McKay, Mr. and Mrs. Frank McConnell, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Dufford of Clintonville, Pa., Mrs. Vincent and the writer went back to Brick Lake, this time all traveling in the McKay truck. Mr. and Mrs. McConnell elected to fish from the shore, leaving four for the McKay motor boat and Mrs. McKay and I for the trailer. Mrs. Dufford led off by hooking a 24 inch bass, her husband came in a good second with three somewhat smaller, then Mrs. McKay with three equally good, while my three just showed inches enough to make their catch legal.

Coming in at sunset, we found that the timber cutters from the Griffin mill at Holopaw had been busy in our absence and had slashed trees in every direction without regard to the trails. Only the almost uncanny skill and woodcraft of our driver saved us from spending the night in the open, as we passed the last obstruction and reached what passes in that section for a public road, just as it got dark. Which brings me back to the beginning of my story. All unloaded at Wyoming avenue and we dressed the fish and had a fish fry supper.

Owing to the low stage of water in lakes and canals all successful fishing is done this year from boats. The Wimer, Yoho and Bonzo party report some good catches. At one time two of this party hooked the same bass, he having taken both baits at the same time. Another party reports two bass hooked at once on an artificial minnow and so it goes.

While Mr. and Mrs. Cooper of Slippery Rock were in St. Cloud in their house car, Mr. Cooper went with the New Castle fishermen to Sebastian Inlet. They spent the night there and returned next day with more than a hundred fish. This party included Messrs. Robinson, Bonzo, Yoho, McKay and Cooper.

I had a pleasant call recently from Rev. Hill, pastor of the Free Methodist church at Kissimmee, who with Mrs. Hill, Mrs. Maitland and Miss McGeary were going through to east coast. Mr. and Mrs. Wagner are about on the streets and Mr. Morrow is a familiar face at the Park.

Lest you think fishing our only, or at least our principal occupation here, I will outline the activities which come under observation in one evening last week on my way from town. The park, lighted for roque, shuffleboard, basketball practice and the regular weekly band concert. Preaching by the Pentecostal evangelists at the W. C. T. U. temple. Some meeting of the P. L. A. at the high school, a concert by the Sanlands jubilee singers of Orlando in the G. A. R. hall under the auspices of the Christian church and some lodge meeting in the upper hall running concurrently, to the detriment of the concert. This is not an unusual evening, rather the rule during the season.

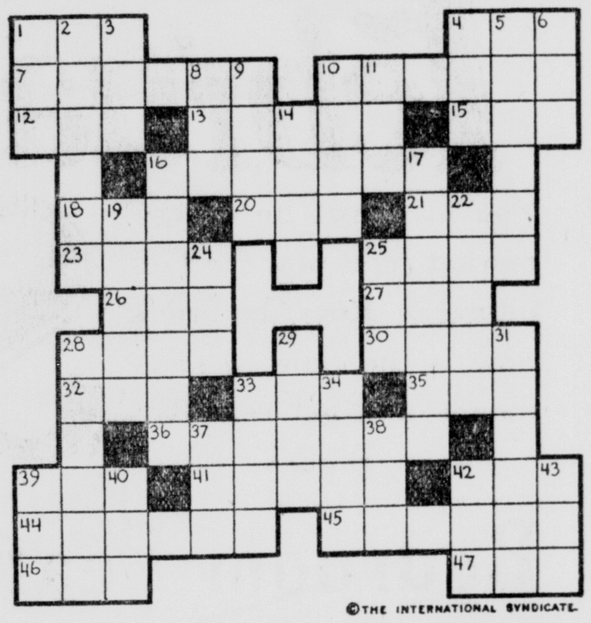

We have about the usual number of tourists this winter, but of different type from two or three years ago. A glance around the Club house at a recent band concert impressed me with the character of those visiting our city now. There is nowhere any indication of wealth or display, but a solid alertness of the busy man taking a little time off for recuperation and to see how others live. It is a class that is hopeful to Florida, men who see not visions of sudden wealth, but safe investment through development. These are the men who will benefit the state and restore confidence. And confidence must be restored to encourage capital to invest. There is no use trying to deny or belittle that fact. Better far face it honestly. Capital and enterprise from out the state must develop it, in co-operation, where possible, with the native element, but more often in spite of them. Conditions in the early history of the state were not inviting to the class who settle down to permanent improving of conditions and home making. Hence the natives in the interior have been reared without schools, have intermarried, and are fifty years behind our northern rural communities. This class controls all things political in the country. Locally St. Cloud has been an exception, to a degree, but the pioneers of the city are passing to the extent that their influence is becoming negligible. Who will direct its affairs in the future remains to be settled. There is an agitation on in city affairs at the present time. No one knows yet whether it will go down to history as a revolution or just another rebellion. In the meantime we are mostly just marking time.

The grove men have, I think, had a good year. That is those who have cared for their trees have had a return in the higher prices rather than the more abundant crop. Those who have neglected their groves have lost ground owing to the dry season. Such groves will take time to come back if they ever do recover.

Business in the town is quiet. Little doing in real estate, building or any other lines except grocery stores, cafeterias and restaurants. I was somewhat surprised yesterday to find the wife and family of one of our former "realtors" running the hot dog stand and gas station east of town. I also had the privilege a few days ago of occupying a secluded corner in the sales room of McKay's Emporium of Used Articles on Eleventh street, when a traveling man tried to interest the proprietor in a snappy line of advertising for next year. That gentleman's resume of business conditions in his speech declaiming the proposition should have been preserved. It was a classic.

MRS. K. C. HUMPHREYS,
St. Cloud, Florida.

SUGGESTIONS FOR SOLVING CROSS-WORD PUZZLES

Start out by filling in the words of which you feel reasonably sure. These will give you a clue to other words crossing them, and they in turn to still others. A letter belongs in each white space, words starting at the numbered squares and running either horizontally or vertically or both.

PETER'S ADVENTURES in ANIMAL LAND

BY MRS. FLORENCE SMITH VINCENT

THE WELCOME OF THE TRIBE.

How to make Chief Crow understand just what ink was, Peter did not know. Luckily for him just at the moment Crow demanded to know, something happened to save the boy from having to make any explanation.

Hopping a few inches away from his companion one of the crows down in the snow raised his head, stretched his neck, opened his beak and cried:

"Caw! Caw! Ca-ca-caw!"

Raising their heads, stretching their necks and opening their big black beaks as if obeying a signal one after another of the crows gave the tribal cry of welcome.

'Caw! Caw! Caw!' answered Chief Crow. At last with a final graceful dip the Chief alighted on his feet in the snow and right in the very center of the semi-circle. Slowly he folded his wings to rest at his sides and the birds got their first good glimpse of Peter. They gazed at him curiously, leaning forward with lifted wings and peering first with one eye and then with the other, their black heads twisted now to this side, now to that. Then the astonished birds began to question their returned leader. Chief lifted one claw reprovingly and said:—

"Here! Here! That will do my warriors. One of you speak at a time!"

Evidently Chief Crow's word was law in the tribe. At his command all the clamor ceased and the fellow who had given the signal for the welcome chorus spoke.

"Greeting, Chieftin!" said he, "Your people are happy to have you back again. But who is this stranger that you have brought upon your back? Surely it is not some kind of game. It looks as if it would be tough eating!"

Peter shivered slightly. He wondered if he had been landed among cannibals and for a brief moment he doubted Chief Crow. But that fellow cawed with amusement.

"You have no idea how tough" jeered he, 'and I advise you not to try to find out for 'it' as you call the stranger is a boy. I should think you would guess that he is a human by his two legs. I have asked him to visit us for a while."

The crows blinked with surprise, but in a second they remembered their manners and bowed to the boy politely. Peter however was not at all sure that the crows were glad to see him. In fact the spokesman of the tribe said as much.

"Of course what you do the tribe stands by, Chieftain and we shall do our duty by your guest. Do you think though that you acted well or wisely to bring him here just now? Remember he makes one more mouth to feed and he looks as if he would demand a great deal to eat.'

Chief Crow cawed his chuckly caw a second time.

"Now don't you worry about that my people" said he. 'Boy, here is a good friend of ours. He has a surprise in store for you—a good one too. He will tell you himself only I am not going to let him say a word before my wife hears about it. If ever she found out that I had good news that I hadn't told her first she would never forgive me. She does love good tidings you know. By the way does any one know how she is now? I left her feeling rather weak and miserable this morning. I hope the cheery message the boy brings will help her to forget that I didn't fetch her the morsel of food that she is hungering for.'

State Grange Is Seeking Place To Hold Convention

HARRISBURG, Feb. 1.—Refusal of the school board here to permit the State Grange the use of one of its high school auditoriums necessitates the organization to select a new convention city.

Seven other Pennsylvania towns are endeavoring to obtain the meeting scheduled for next December, John H. Light, secretary, said here today.

Towns making overtures to obtain the convention are Philadelphia, State College, Altoona, Williamsport, Indiana, Allentown and Uniontown.

The executive committee is to meet next month and pick a new convention place.

The local school board declined to permit the use of an auditorium because the session might interfere with the regular school schedule.

The meeting, which lasts a week, is usually attended by between 1200 and 1500 persons daily.

STOP THE FAT AND GET THIN
The way to reduction is to stop the formation of fat. Modern science has found that way—by turning your food into fuel and energy—by supplying a natural element that helps do that. It is much better than starvation. That modern, scientific method is embodied in Marmola prescription tablets. People have used them for 20 years—millions of boxes of them. Now the results in slender figures, new beauty and vitality, are seen everywhere.
Each box of Marmola contains the formula, also the scientific reasons for results. So you know the effects are beneficial, and why they all occur. Learn what so many have learned in 20 years about it. Do it now. Ask your druggist for a $1 box of Marmola and learn what it means to you.

When the CHILDREN cough
GIVE them PERTUSSIN at once. It will soothe the cough quickly, loosen the sticky, germ-laden phlegm that often clogs the air-passages. It is absolutely harmless and free from "dope" (such as narcotics, chloroform, cannabis or other injurious drugs). Children like its taste, and it will not upset the digestion.
For over 20 years PERTUSSIN has been one of the most widely used remedies for whooping cough. It is good for any member of the family—children as well as for adults.
Sold by all druggists in large and small bottles.

Lady of leisure, jockey or bookkeeper—every one of us, no matter who we are, may offend unknowingly

Let's be honest about body odor

IT'S not a pleasant subject to talk about—but it's important that you face the whole truth about body odor.

You'll readily admit that body odor offends. You know you couldn't be attracted to anyone who was guilty.

But do you realize we are all subject to body odor? To live, we must perspire—constantly. And with activities indoors—in warmer, stuffier rooms—body odor is more noticeable than ever in winter.

Thousands guilty —and don't know it

Even on coldest days, our millions of pores give off invisible perspiration—often as much as a quart of waste every 24 hours.

Whether you see this body moisture or not, the odor is always there. And no one escapes it. Without taking precautions, everyone—regardless of occupation or position in life—may offend. And worst of all, we cannot tell when we are guilty.

For, once an odor becomes familiar, our own sense of smell becomes deadened to it. That's why even fastidious people often assume they are safe—when actually they do offend.

How millions prevent body odor

Yet it's easy to keep free from body odor. Just wash and bathe frequently with the most delightful toilet soap in the world—Lifebuoy—it deodorizes.

The same blandly antiseptic lather that helps protect health by removing germs—prevents body odor by purifying pores.

Millions have found that Lifebuoy also keeps complexions fresh and clear. They prefer it for every toilet purpose.

	Body odor more noticeable in winter—due to stuffy rooms—closed windows.
1 Qt.	Pores give off as much as a quart of waste a day—even in coldest weather.
	Now, a purifying toilet soap. Its bland antiseptic lather keeps you safe from body odor.

You'll like its hygienic scent

You will learn to love Lifebuoy's pleasant clean scent, which tells you Lifebuoy purifies, yet which quickly evaporates after rinsing.

Use Lifebuoy a week and you'll use it for life. Get some today.

Kegarise Announces Plan For Airport Here

Plans for a local airport are presented with the announcement of Ralph Kegarise that he has leased a plot of ground on the Wilmington road, four miles from the city limits, which has been approved by the Department of Commerce at Washington, D. C., after a thorough inspection by officials of the department and men from the government airport at Pittsburgh. Mr. Kegarise hopes that his field will be open April 1.

Already Mr. Kegarise has an airplane at Pittsburgh, an Alexander Eaglerock, which he will bring to New Castle as soon as weather conditions permit. In a month Mr. Kegarise will make a trip to the Alexander Aircraft factories at Denver, Col., where he will purchase another plane and fly it to New Castle. The second plane which will be acquired will be an eight-passenger cabin monoplane, motored with a Pratt-Whitney wasp engine capable of developing 140 miles an hour when loaded to capacity, he says. The plane which Mr. Kegarise now has at the Pittsburgh airport will develop well over 100 miles an hour and will carry two passengers.

At his flying field Mr. Kegarise plans to conduct a regulation flying school and will give instruction in flying, aerial photography and cross-country flying. He also plans to offer taxi service to any point in the United States.

Weather conditions permitting, Mr. Kegarise will fly his plane from Pittsburgh to New Castle in about a week and demonstrate it to prospective buyers. His ground school, which will be preparatory to actual flying experience for students, will also open at the same time.

It will be remembered that Mr. Kegarise saw four years of service flying at the western front during the late war, having enlisted with the Royal Flying Corps, British, in 1914 During the past few months he has gotten his United States aviator's license and has been flying from the Pittsburgh field so as to keep up with the latest developments.

'TIP' RICHARDS NOT ON SAVOIA FIVE

Investigation Results In Clean Bill Being Given To "Tip"

By ED. FRITZ

Monday's sport section of The News carried the names of House of Savoia league athletes and in the account appeared the name of Richards as having netted 36 points.

This has resulted in telephone calls, according to Savoia athletic officials, inquiring if the Richards referred to is Tip Richards of New Castle High.

As Sports Editor of The News, the writer talked with Sebastian Isabella, athletic director and he said: "No, it is Tex Richards, a brother to Tip who is playing in the league."

This should eliminate any suspicion that Tip of New Castle high is not adhering to W. P. I. A. L. league rulings.

Sebastian did say that Tip is a coach but his proclivities are confined entirely to coaching.

It is a common style of all newspapers to print only last names in the account of league statistics.

Clears Suspicion Away

This style is deviated from when two players of the same name participate in the same contest.

Should both names be the same then the first name of each player is written in full.

In the House of Savoia case a member of the News staff received the statistics.

As Tex was the only Richards in the contest it was written "Richards" but this led to telephone calls being sent to Savoia athletic officials.

But fans, Tip is living up to the W. P. I. A. L. league rules and when he passes out of high school sport, Tex may be able to take his turn for Ne-Ca-Hi.

It is in fairness to Tip and Ne-Ca-Hi that the writer publishes this explanation as it may stop any suspicion that W. P. I. A. L. rules are being broken.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle.

Sometimes I wonder if automobiles have souls, especially some of these hard working trucks. One sees them in all stages of repair on the streets, some of them sleek and spic in their shiny coats of paint, others in the full bloom of their manhood, and still others broken down, careworn and waiting for a merciful junk man.

Saw one of that type Tuesday night on the Taylor street crossing on Mill street. The years had brought their toll, the paint was gone, the fenders had cauliflower ears and the radiator looked as though it had been stepped on.

It was a picture of distress. One rear wheel had dropped off, blocking the crossing; the body sagged down disconsolately and up at the head end the radiator was pouring out a woeful looking cloud of steam. The spirit of the truck was willing, but the flesh was weak and the load it was called upon to carry had broken it down.

One could almost hear the cries of distress, and the very picture of dejection seemed to say, "nothing left but the river".

A lad from Croton seems to think that the one o'clock parking ordinance is going to be of help to him. Under the provisions of it one can get a permit to park after one o'clock. The Croton lad has a girl on the West Side. The girl's mother won't let him stay anywhere near one o'clock, but if he gets a permit from the city will the lady care to dispute the city council?

In his current outpourings, Henry L. Mencken, the self-appointed Lord of the Higher Thought, takes a nasty rap at the American Legion. One would expect something of this sort from Baltimore Hank. During the war he was one of those big-hearted patriots who couldn't be bothered with the war himself, figuring that the pen was mightier than the sword. But did you ever hear of Montfaucon being taken by a battalion of fountain pens?

The Legion can feel complimented. Give Hank credit, he doesn't criticize a dead organization. Being impressed with his own Kultur, anything American is simply impossible, from his viewpoint.

That pair of Swedes playing for Westminster, Delahunty and O'Donovan, showed the Duquesne University lads what basketball was all about Tuesday night. It's worth a trip to New Wilmington on game nights just to see the way those lads flick that ball around. Aided and abetted, of course, by Tudor Lewis, Sparky Connor and that three-letter star, Chuck Ayers.

WOMEN WANT TO BE "VETS"

Lifting of the ban against women students by the Royal Veterinary college of London is expected to cause feminine invasion into the veterinary field. When the announcement of the change was made recently there were at once a number of fair applicants for instruction. Dog racing is expected to attract many of the graduates, for members of the college have inspected, for possible mistreatment, all animals entered in greyhound races at White City and Harringay, two of the most popular English tracks. It is believed that women will leave the treatment of larger animals, such as horses and cows, to men, but will specialize in dogs, cats and birds.

Colds That Develop Into Pneumonia

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the gratest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

"BOSSY" GILLIS TAKES NEW YORK BY STORM

Mayor Andrew J. Anger at treatment accorded him in the recent Long Beach open tourney has hastened his decision to move east, it is said.

SHE ABANDONS HANDS FOR FEET

The bashful ones make the best customers when they get over that shy feeling. They reach for quarters instead of dimes. So says Miss Georgette Dodd, of Baltimore, who became a barber shop's shoe shiner after finding manicuring didn't pay as well. "Hands are all right, but even if there were as much money in them I think I'd stick to feet," she says. Photo shows Miss Dodd "shining 'em up."

Era Of Television Fast Approaching

Believe Not Too Distant Future Will See Television In Constant Use

See-Yourself Telephones Next Big Step; Broadcast Fights In Reality

By WILLIAM PARKER.
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 1.—If you have $10,000 to spare you may have your own television unit and see the person with whom you are conversing over the telephone.

The day is coming too when prize fights will be "broadcast" by television, and in your own home you will see a future Gene Tunney knock a future Jack Dempsey into public oblivion.

And the annoying person who reads movie titles aloud shortly will be seeking another occupation for talking movies will revolutionize the cinema industry.

Radio telephones will never supplant telephones which utilize wires.

Television Era Near.

Mother Shipkan's prophecy of long ago was not more startling than that voiced here today by Dr. Edward B. Craft of New York, executive vice president of the Bell telephone laboratories, Inc.

In their order Dr. Craft explained his "prophecies" as follows:

1—Television will never be a commonplace adjunct to a telephone because the person at the other end of the wire is of secondary importance to the conversation.

2—Obstacles still stand in the way of "broadcasting" prize fights and public events, but laboratory experts are studiously working to overcome these obstacles and the day of perfected television is near.

3—All that is needed to revolutionize the film industry is for producers to study methods of making talking pictures as artistic as silent movies are being made.

4—Universal use of radio telephones is not practical because the greatest possible number of channels is 1,000 due to the limited number of wave lengths.

GREAT MOVIE STUDIOS USE LUX

They all find Lux keeps costumes new-looking twice as long . .

This Warner Bros. picture, "Don Juan," starring John Barrymore, used costumes worth $300,000. Their loveliness was guarded by safe cleansing with Lux

THE movies face a problem of clothes care every woman meets—but on a vast scale!

For in the movie studios, millions of dollars' worth of costumes of every sort, from negligees to camping togs, must be kept fresh and new-looking, in spite of long, strenuous wear. It often takes months, sometimes even years, to "shoot" a big picture.

The studios have tried different washing methods, and have found that the best way to cleanse all washable things is with Lux!

With Lux, the studios say, sheer materials and substantial fabrics, too, stay new-looking more than twice as long as when washed any other way!

This means a saving, studio heads tell us, of more than a million dollars a year!

They all do it!

Now every great motion picture studio in Hollywood—Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, Paramount-Famous-Lasky, Universal, Pathe-De Mille, Fox, First National, United Artists and Warner Bros.—uses Lux in cleansing all washable fabrics!

BENNETT NATHAN, designer for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, working out a new fabric pattern. "A box of Lux seems like a small thing," says Joseph Rapf, wardrobe supervisor, "but it stands for dollars upon dollars saved in Metro-Goldwyn studios."

AILEEN PRINGLE, who wears, in "Adam and Evil," this beautiful real lace negligee, once owned by the Empress Alexandra of Russia, supervises its washing in Lux. Historic garments in the movies are cleansed in pure Lux suds.

8 out of 10 homes in cities from coast to coast use Lux—to save fabrics, save money!

Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass.

SO SAFE AND A LITTLE GOES SO FAR, IT'S ECONOMY TO USE LUX

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

BY MRS. MARY MORTON

MENU HINT.

How is the family health? Are any members over or under weight? Do they have good appetites and have they gotten thus far without succumbing to the prevailing colds? This is a good time of year to check up on the family health as well as finances. Here is a day's menu, with meals that are balanced, and an unusual dessert recipe.

Breakfast.
Orange Juice — Cooked Cereal
Poached Eggs — Toast
Coffee — Milk

Luncheon.
Cheese Souffle
Cabbage and Pimento Salad
Molasses Cookies — Cocoa

Dinner.
Meat Loaf — Baked Mashed Turnips
Stewed Tomatoes
Scallopped Apples with Orange Sauce
Tea.

Today's Recipes.

Baked Mashed Turnips—Wash, peel and cut turnip into one-quarter-inch cubes. Cook in boiling salted water until soft. Drain, mash and add an equal quantity of hot mashed potatoes, enough milk to moisten and season with salt, a little sugar and pepper. Put in a greased baking dish cover with grated cheese and bake 15 minutes in a hot oven, 400 degrees Fahrenheit.

Scalloped Apples With Orange Sauce—Three cups soft bread crumbs, three tablespoons butter, one quart apples cut in pieces, one-half cup water, one-half cup sugar, one-quarter teaspoon ground cinnamon, one-half teaspoon ground nutmeg. Put the butter in a saucepan, place the pan on a surface burner and heat until the butter is melted. Then add the crumbs and stir until the butter is well mixed with the crumbs. Do not brown the crumbs. In a pan or bowl mix the apples, sugar, spices and water. Put one-quarter of the buttered crumbs in the bottom of a baking dish, add one-half of the apple mixture, then one-quarter more of the crumbs and the remainder of the apple mixture. Cover with the remaining one-half portion of the crumbs. Bake covered at 275 or 250 degrees for 30 or 40 minutes. Serve with orange sauce or with cream.

HOLDUP CASE IN BAD MIXUP

Meting of justice in connection with a holdup in Buenos Aires, Argentina, is taking a course that is believed to be unprecedented in the world. Senor Porfirio Callado, charged with complicity in the holdup of pay checks of a sugar refinery, started a new suit in civil court seeking to have Dr. Arganaras, the judge trying his case in criminal court, declared to be of unsound mind and not responsible for his actions. The civil judge threw out the case on the ground that the necessary medical certificate and other proofs were lacking. Then Dr. Arganaras discovered that he is not on speaking terms with the defendant and excused himself from further proceedings.

Borough Manager Arrives To Take Up Duties Here

States That He Likes Town And Anticipates No Trouble In His Work

Has Made No Definite Plans Regarding Complete City Program As Yet

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 1.—Lowell M. Monroe, former engineer of Meadville, and new Borough Manager of Ellwood City, arrived in town late yesterday, prepared to take up his duties here.

In a brief interview this morning, he was discovered to be a jovial young man of medium stature, radiating executive personality, and pleased with his reception here. So far he likes the town, and would not commit himself regarding his plans, as yet. He will meet the members of the Borough Council formally at the regular monthly council meeting February 9, and will probably outline his plan of action, and receive instructions, at that time.

He doesn't anticipate any trouble in getting the managing reins adjusted to the various civic departments. When asked about Mrs. Monroe, he stated that she has a position with the Meadville schools as teacher, and will probably join him when her school duties are completed instead of coming immediately.

The office of a Borough Manager was created at one of the last meetings of the 1927 Borough Council, and is an entirely new venture for Ellwood City, being one of the few towns in the state having such a form of government.

Organization of a branch of the Holy Name society in St. Vitus Parish, is now under way. The Epic Of Beecher's Island—II
The Cheyenne War

ENRAGED BY THE BUILDING OF THE KANSAS-PACIFIC RAILWAY THROUGH THEIR HUNTING GROUNDS, THE CHEYENNE WENT ON THE WARPATH AND SWEPT THROUGH WESTERN KANSAS LIKE A TORNADO. MANY SETTLERS WERE MASSACRED, AND THE FRONTIER TOWNS WERE FILLED WITH REFUGEES FLEEING FROM THE WRATH OF THE INDIANS.

THE SITUATION WAS MADE MORE DESPERATE BY UNSCRUPULOUS WHITE TRADERS WHO WENT SECRETLY AMONG THE HOSTILES SELLING AMMUNITION AND REPEATING RIFLES OF THE LATEST MODEL.

THE INDIANS CENTERED THEIR ATTACKS ON THE RAILROAD. WHOLE GANGS OF THE BUILDERS WERE WIPED OUT, BUT OTHERS TOOK THEIR PLACES AND THE GREAT WORK OF LINKING THE EAST WITH THE WEST BY RAIL WENT ON SLOWLY BUT STEADILY.

ABOUT THIS TIME, GEN. PHILIP SHERIDAN, FAMOUS CAVALRY LEADER, WAS PLACED IN CHARGE OF THE MILITARY DEPARTMENT OF MISSOURI. HE FAVORED SEVERITY TOWARD THE HOSTILES, BUT HAD ONLY A SMALL ARMY AT HIS COMMAND, AND WAS HAMPERED BY THE INDIAN COMMISSION, WHICH INSISTED THAT THE TROOPS BE USED ONLY FOR GARRISON DUTY AND DEFENSE OF THE TOWNS.

Westminster Team Leads Conference League

Wins Decisively From Duquesne

New Wilmington Tossers Defeat Duquesne At Pittsburgh, 43-18

RESULT OF GAME NEVER IN DOUBT

(Special To The News)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Feb. 1.—Westminster college demonstrated why it is leading the conference basketball league when on Tuesday night the lads from New Wilmington outfought, outsmarted and outscored Duquesne university by a score of 43 to 18.

Touted as a game that would likely be as close as a woolen vest, it turned out to be a rout. Duquesne never was close to heading off the savage attack of Westminster.

On the offense Westminster worked with the precision of an infantry regiment. On the defense, the team was like a stone wall, and Duquesne could seldom get the ball past the middle of the floor.

Gymnasium Crowded.

For the fray the Duquesne gymnasium was crowded to the very rafters. The game was a promise of seeing the probable conference champions in action and no such crowd ever jammed the gym as saw the tilt last night. For Duquesne the game meant the possibility of surmounting the last obstacle to a third conference championship. For Westminster it meant the high hurdle of the conference race of this year and the ease with which the Blue and White took it was a surprise.

From the tip off the game was a fast one. Sparky Connor had hardly tipped the ball to Tudor Lewis in the first period until Captain Lewis had it through the hoops and from that on the fans at the game got a lesson in basketball. Several times Delehunty, who was on his game even keener than he has been all season, lifted the ball over the head of an interfering foe and dropped it through for a counter.

At the half the game stood at 16-4 in favor of Westminster with the game on ice. Coach Lawther's boys were working too smoothly to allow a slip in the second half and they finished with the same lineup as the one which started. An example of the clean playing of Westminster is seen in the fact that Duquesne was given but six foul shots and scored all of them.

Revelation to Pittsburgh.

The game was a revelation to Pittsburgh fans. They expected to see a good game but did not expect to see five whirlwinds as they did. From whistle to whistle Westminster was so much superior to Duquesne that there was little comparison.

With Duquesne out of the way in such overwhelming fashion, the prospects for a conference winner for Westminster are bright. Coach John Lawther has a combination this year that seems in a fair way to set basketball history for the school and the game Tuesday night was just a tip-off to what may be expected throughout the season. The score follows:

Westminster 43		Duquesne 18
Delahunty	F	Reich
O'Donovan	F	Rosenberg
Connor	C	Vernon
Lewis	G	Benedict
Ayers	G	Stephens

Score by halves:

Westminster	16	27—43

The Handball Champion

By Feg Murray

Copyright, 1928, by Metropolitan Newspaper Service

Baltimore has other champions, besides Joe Dundee. Yes indeed! Mr. George A. Nelson a short, stocky individual who spends much of his time batting a little ball around in a four-walled court, is King over a much larger domain in sports than Mr. Dundee. For every welterweight boxer there are many handball players and George A. Nelson is Grand High Potentate of all the handball players of the country which is saying quite a mouthful.

For four straight years the Pacific coast ruled the roost in A. A. U. four wall handball. 'Red" Murray of San Francisco won in 1923 and then Maynard Laswell of Los Angeles won for three years in succession not defending his title in 1927. George Nelson arrived on the scene in Detroit last March carrying the honor of being runner-up in the Y. M. C. A. tournament but was hardly looked upon as the man who would stop the far west's annual march to victory. However it was soon a matter of history that the ninth annual senior championship was won by a Mr. Nelson of Baltimore and in acquiring the title he waded through a field of 66 players without losing a game and topped off his week's work with a startling 21-9, 21-4 defeat of Frank Burke of San Francisco.

Nelson's deceptive twisting service and his tricky 'hop" ball which he delivers with equal ease from either hand will make him the favorite in the 1928 tournament which takes place next month in Cleveland.

Like his fellow city-ite, Joe Dundee, Nelson came to grief when he went out to the coast in 1927. Four or five of the ranking players in the Los Angeles Athletic club found Nelson "easy meat" for them when they got him in their big courts and George left town sadder but wiser.

Feg Murray Says.

The ancient Greek athletes were tremendous eaters according to Galen. A certain champ named Aegon ate 30 pancakes at a sitting.

If one would pun with impunity one would say that he was of course in training for the "880."

Geneva Prepares For Hard Battle With Duquesne

Geneva Not Out Of Tri-State Conference Race; Hope To Topple "Dukes"

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., Feb. 1.—Coach "Bo" McMillin is hard at work preparing the Geneva quintette for its hardest game against Duquesne's fast stepping five. The Covenanters have yet to register a Conference win, and are eager to defeat the Dukes. The game will be played on the local high school floor to better accommodate the large crowd that annually tries to see this game, which contests have been classics the past three years and have always decided the Conference Championship. This year the contest will be no exception as a loss for the Dukes at this stage of the race would be disastrous for their chances to defeat Westminster.

The Covenanters do not consider themselves out of the race. The team has been riddled with injuries the past few games, Bruce, Merriman, Lloyd and Capt. Rubenstein being unable to play. These men are again in good shape and will be ready to start Thursday. Duquesne have reserved a large section of seats for their followers and the local students are planning special cheering features. The largest crowd ever to pack the high school gym is anticipated. The Duquesne and Geneva Reserve teams will play a preliminary game. Geneva's Reserves are undefeated to date. These games were originally scheduled for Friday night.

Wilmington Girls Defeat East Brook

The New Wilmington High School girls team defeated East Brook High 45 to 32 in a game played at the New Wilmington floor on Tuesday night.

The Wilmington girls led throughout the game, and at the end of the first half were in the van 35 to 15. Miss Robinson was the high scorer of the game with thirteen field goals, while her team-mate Miss Minner caged nine. The playing of Miss McKnight and Captain Martin featured for the losers.

The summary:

East Brook 32		New Wilmington 45
McConnell	F	Minner
McKnight	F	Robinson
Simison	C	McClintock
Kennedy	G	C Reese
Martin	G	Goff
Patterson	G	Edeburn

Subs—New Wilmington: White, Weber, Farley, Wallace, Rhorbaugh, Hawke, Thompson, Patterson and Kuhn. East Brook: Gormley, Hood and Wallace. Field goals—McConnell 4, McKnight 9, Minner 9, Robinson 13. Fouls—East Brook 4 out of 8. New Wilmington 1 out of 5. Referee—Richards.

Army-Navy Gridiron Battle May Be Saved, But Hope Is Slight

Tension Between Service Teams Strong; Commandant Winans To Leave

Both Academies Without Faith That President Coolidge Will Intervene

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor International News Service

NEW YORK, Feb. 1. — Captain "Biff" Jones and Commander Jonas Ingram, respective head coaches of football at West Point and Annapolis, fine fellows in their own right and cordial in their personal relationship, refused to pose together for a photograph at the Astor Hotel here, it was learned Tuesday. The incident was cited as showing the temper of the two academies on the question of their eligibility code and as a warning to congressmen who are trying, with some indication of impending success, to force the pair together next fall.

Army and Navy football never has been noted as a strictly genteel pastime. Clean football often is harder on the proboscis than the unwashed kind. The Army and Navy play clean football of that type when they like each other. They do not, at present; at least, they seem to be hopelessly estranged by their respective ideas of eligibility and it might seem to be the better part of good judgment to let them "cool out" at their leisure. A prominent eastern official informed the writer today that he might not care to handle the game if it is played this year.

"It might turn out to be one of the worst things that could happen to football," he said. "These fellows would be all wrought up and, if an official had to throw eight or ten of them out of the game, it wouldn't look good. I don't think I would want to be that official."

Tension Is High

The Jones-Ingram incident is important only because it clearly indicates how keen the tension is at West Point and Annapolis. These very good friends simply couldn't afford to pose together because they felt there might be a "kick-back" in the matter from those higher up at the two academies. At that, Jones first agreed to the photographer's proposal and, then thinking better of it, forbade the taking of the picture.

However, you keep a camera man down mostly by placing a grand piano upon his chest after first taking the precaution to nail his hands firmly to the floor. While Jones and Ingram were talking, the photographer approached from the surreptitious rear and shot his flash light. The shutter of his camera jammed and he didn't get the picture after all but Jones didn't know it. He spent the rest of the day asking newspaper friends, of which he has many, to suppress the photograph.

It developed at Philadelphia last Saturday night that the Navy still entertains a faint hope that the game can be salvaged for next fall. It builds this hope on the fact that Major General Winans, Commandant at West Point, is due for a transfer on March 1. The Navy regards Winans as the real die-hard of the entire controversy and, therefore, is waiting to see what might happen in March before it definitely accepts Princeton as a substitute opponent in place of the Army. The latter is supposed to be marking time for the same season in its negotiations with several prospective opponents, including Nebraska.

The belief of John Sap and his cousin, Joe Gum, is that President Coolidge will do something. The service academies have no such faith. They know the President won't because he can't. They say it is not within his province because football is neither a legitimate course nor an officially recognized activity at either school. Secretaries Wilbur and Davis are handcuffed for the same reason, it is said. They could forbid the academies to play but they can't insist upon them doing it.

Hughey Jennings Passes To Reward

Famous Leader Of Detroit Tigers Victim Of Meningitis

HAD BRILLIANT DIAMOND CAREER

HUGHEY JENNINGS.

(International News Service)

SCRANTON, Pa., Feb. 1.—Hugh A. (Hughey) Jennings, one of baseball's most picturesque figures, died at 1:15 a. m., today at his home here. He was 57 years old.

Jennings suffered an attack of meningitis last Saturday and his condition rapidly became worse. The colorful and aggressive manager who won three pennants for Detroit waged a game struggle against the disease after physicians had given up hope for his recovery. He had been ill for three years.

The end came peacefully. He became unconscious on Sunday, but regained consciousness later and chatted with relatives.

Jennings is survived by his wife; one daughter, Mrs. Thomas P. McWilliams; two brothers, James and Frank Jennings; and one sister, Mrs. Edward Walsh. All live in Pennsylvania.

Famous "E-Yah" Silent

And so the famous "E-Yah" of Hughey Jennings is stilled forever. It resounded through the land back in 1907 when the Detroit Tigers started on their winning splurge and Jennings, as their fiery manager, came in for an era of great exploitation. He delivered pennant winners at Detroit in 1907, 1908 and 1909 but was not able to win a single world's series, being beaten by the famous Chicago Cubs of Chance's day the first two years and by the Pittsburgh Pirates in 1909.

Jennings remained a colorful, though not successful manager for eleven years thereafter, being finally succeeded by his greatest star, the only Ty Cobb. However, Hughey had the satisfaction of managing a respendent host of stars during his days at Detroit, the list, in addition to Cobb, including Sam Crawford, Donie Bush, George Moriarity, present manager of the club; Bob Veach, the late Bill Donovan, Charley O'Leary, Bobby Lowe, Matty McIntyre, Davy Jones, Harry Heilman, George Mullin, "Hack" Schmidt, Oscar Stanage and many others.

Attained Great Fame

In his days on the playing field, Jenning attained almost as much fame as he did as a manager. He was the shortstop of the old Baltimore Orioles, of Ned Hanlon, the club that featured John McGraw, Wilbert Robinson, Brodie, Joe Kelley, Dahlen, Willie Keeler, McGann and others. Subsequently, Jennings "lost" his arm and put in a few years at first base, one of them with the Phillies and several more with Brooklyn, then the National League champion.

When Bill Armour was dropped at Detroit, Jennings stepped into the breach. He remained for some fourteen years and, after being superceded by Cobb, he got a job as coach of the Giants under the auspices of his old friend McGraw. That was in the spring of 1921. He lasted until the end of the 1925 season when tuberculosis claimed him and he was forced to retire to a sanitorium at Asheville, N. C.

He returned in greatly improved health during the 1926 season but did not resume his connection with baseball.

Jennings was a graduate of Cornell University and practiced law in his home town of Scranton, Pa., until his health failed. He was born in the mining village of Mossis, Pa., on April 2, 1871.

Friday will probably be set as the day for the funeral with services in St. Peter's Cathedral and interment in Scranton.

No definite announcement was made however.

Japan, which entered the International Skating association only last year, will make her debut in international competition in the Olympic skating championships at St. Moritz.

The action of the Intercollegiate Rowing association in inviting a number of non-members to participate is likely to add much to the interest of the 1928 intercollegiate regatta at Poughkeepsie.

Jack O'Connell To Box Simmons

Former Notre Dame Football Star To Appear Monday Night

TRYING TO GET FINK FOR ELMO

Jack O'Connell, former Notre Dame football player and who was called the "Fifth Horseman" will fight Stanley Simmons at the Old Armory Monday night and the matchmaker now is trying to secure Jack Fink as an opponent to Elmo The Mighty. Bearded Boy of the Jolly Fistic circus.

During the life of the young club several incidents have occurred which have rattled the bones of Promoter Bill Jolly but the up-and-doing hustler says: "Every show in every way is getting better and better" and now that Red Jadabird took the award from Jack Herman, here come the heavyweights.

The last time we saw O'Connell fight was at Youngstown and he knocked out Paul Brown, not only once but twice. Jack sent him down early and in coming bout Simmons hopes to get even with Jack for having kayoed him at Pittsburgh. According to those who have saw Sims fight, he steps on the gas.

Here And There In Sports' Land

By ED. FRITZ

Zach Taylor, catcher and Lefty O'Doul, outfielder have signed their contracts with the New York Giants.

Willyum Jolly, the promoter at the Old Armory, lost $90 on the last show and he is now rounding up a galaxy of punchers for next Monday night. According to boys closest to Willyum it is possible for he and Elmo, The Mighty to get together as Jack Fink has bobbed up and says: "Lead me into Elmo and I'll shave him fast and quick." Mournful Andy of Cleveland apparently doesn't care for Elmo so it may be Elmo and Jack.

The National pocket billiard tournament will be confined to 10 players and will be held in Chicago, March 5-17.

Talking about policemen, let us remark that there is one "cop" who is known as the "Police Tenor." He is Charlie Augostine who rides the bicycle when he isn't trying to catch somebody pulling fire alarms. The last time Charlie had to dismount it was to capture a couple of boys who made the mistake of pulling when he was near. The boys got a good balwing out. Tonight Charlie will sing at the minstrel show.

Charlie Root, pitcher and Hack Wilson, outfielder, have failed to put their signatures to Chicago Cub contracts for 1928.

Here are Jonothan Doubt and Hearless Brown. They are discussing the Herman-Jadabird fight and the count is the feature of the conversation. Jonathan is listening to Hearless who can't hear when he has his hat pulled over his eyes. They sneaked away from home Monday night on the pretext that lodge meeting night had been changed from Wednesday to Monday night. As soon as their wives see this photograph they will be asked to explain why they didn't stay home and help entertain the members of the sewing circle instead of witnessing a couple of "brutal prizefights."

Enon Odd Fellows Quintet Defeated

Enon Valley's I. O. O. F. team lost a hardfought game to Mahoningtown A. A., 42 to 36, at Enon last night. The Mahoningtown A. A. put a good quintet on the floor. Turk led the visitors with 10 field goals, making some uncanny shots into the basket. Russell was the outstanding star for Enon.

SORDS POINTS

By JACK SORDS.

When the curtain rises next spring for the opening of the 1928 baseball season, there will be not more than six players classed as regulars who have been in the major leagues for 15 years or more. They are Max Carey, Grover Alexander, Herb Pennock, Eppa Rixey, Jack Quinn and Wally Schang. Last year 15 players who had been "up" 15 years cavorted around the diamond not all regulars but in there just the same. But from this number Cobb, Speaker, Walter Johnson and Zack Wheat drop which leaves, in addition to the six mentioned above Grover Hartley, Ray Schalk, Roger Peckinpaugh, Eddie Collins and Stanley Coveleskie, who comes back with the Yanks to answer next season's roll call.

But Hartley is now a coach with the Indians, Ray Schalk's playing days are over, Peckinpaugh ,as manager of the Indians will not play much; Eddie Collins' main job is to assist Connie Mack handle the Athletics and Coveleskie's ability is questionable. He may make the grade and he may not.

It shows the old vets are passing out gradually and most of the few that will be in there next spring will be playing their last year at least as a major league regular.

Tris Speaker Is Released Today By Washington

Once Great Outfielder Given Release By Senators; Becomes Free Agent

CONNIE MACK MAY SIGN COBB-SPEAKER

By DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor International News Service

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—At midnight tonight Tris Speaker automatically will be taken out of bond and placed in circulation, free as a sample at the notion counter to anyone interested. Two years ago this announcement would have been worth eight columns of any man's newspaper headlines, and, in the resultant riot, the loss of life among baseball club owners, trampled underfoot like so many women and children, would have been something frightful. But this is today, or at least that is the way I have been given to understand it, and the silence is almost audible.

Apparently the human parallel bar, Connie Mack of Philadelphia, stands alone between Speaker and Ty Cobb and oblivion, although it is possible that the Giants may make a play for Speaker yet. John McGraw is alleged to have disclaimed any such intention and that is quite all right, too, because the Giant manager's manager, Charley Stoneham, may not have told him what to say next.

Connie Mack Interested

As for the 14 remaining club owners, they seem to be looking at their fingernails with very grave interest. Cobb has been foot-loose for some weeks and the only man who says he wants Ty is the man who let him out, the foresaid C. Mack. He will take Cobb back at greatly reduced rates.

From Philadelphia comes the report that Mack is willing to take on both Cobb and Speaker and play them in his outfield with Al Simmons. They say he is ready to pay Cobb $20,000 for the season and Speaker five thousand less, although the intimation was that he might be wheedled out of more money in either case or both. It may be worthy of note that Messrs. Cobb and Speaker can wheedle in really sensational style, particularly if they had one bid to play against another, which apparently they haven't.

This fact is somewhat singular in view of the circumstances, there being at least nine other clubs that could make excellent use of either Cobb or Speaker for one season. But the big money or something has them stymied.

Too Much Money

Huggins of the Yankees never wanted Cobb and gave up all thought of Speaker a year ago. The Senators, having relinquished claim to Speaker, naturally aren't interested, and neither Cleveland nor Detroit ever evinced further concern about the stars they turned loose last winter. The St. Louis Browns were understood to have been ready to pay Cobb $50,000 for the 1927 season, but now they seem to have gone into silence. The Red Sox may or may not entertain some notions about Speaker, but Bobby Quinn is committed to building up a young team and Speaker is young like a dowager's chin. It seems doubtful that the White Sox ever gave either of these gents more than a passing thought.

That probably goes, too, for the Cincinnati Reds, and the Phillies just naturally aren't interested in anything that calls for the use of money. The Boston Braves once wanted Speaker as manager, but now they have Hornsby and one of those kind is enough. The Cubs have plenty of outfielders and are sufficiently abashed by financial disputes, anyhow. It is a moot point whether Barney Dreyfuss of Pittsburgh or Sam Breadon of St. Louis would take Cobb or Speaker altogether gratis.

This survey seems to leave C. Mack almost alone to take the rap. He is the stand-out choice at that, for he has been taking them on the Van Dyke ever since 1914. As the late Bill Brennan said about Firpo, "He is positively inhuman to punishment."

The Castle Five girls team will play the Shenango Pottery China five at the House of Savoia gym floor on Friday night. The game will start at 7 o'clock.

The same teams are billed for a return game at the Y. M. C. A. court later in the month.

Petersburg Is Beaten By Enon

Basketball Game Goes Into Extra Period At Enon

Enon Community Five captured their seventh straight victory here last night when they vanquished the fast Petersburg, O., Aces in a game that went into an extra period. The score was 21-19.

The game was spectacular from start to finish and two players were put out of the game for personal fouls.

Petersburg scored first when Bright dropped a field goal through the hoops and adding a foul shortly afterward which put Petersburg in the lead.

Lindner and Anderson each scored from the field but lost the lead when Wilson and Beight each added a two-marker and Bright a foul, placing the visitors in the lead, which they held, 11 to 7, at the end of the half.

The second half resulted in Petersburg being forced hard and in the fourth quarter Lindner, Community forward, and Brownlee, Ace forward, left the game for personal fouls.

In the last minute Daniels tied the score, 19-19, when he secured a free throw for the needed point.

The overtime period had gone four minutes before Enon scored the winning field goal.

In the first game the B. and O. team will clash with the Marshalls. The second game brings together the Athletics and Liberty Five in what should be a lively battle and the last game will find the league leading Rick-Overlands and B. and O. boys tangling. The B. and O. team will play two games tonight. The playing of the three games tonight will bring the City league schedule up to date.

Temple Israel Five Defeats Youngstown

The Temple Israel basketball team journeyed to Youngstown, O., on Tuesday night and defeated the B. M. D. club of that city by a score of 39 to 37 in an extra-period game. It was the first defeat of the year for the B. M. D. team.

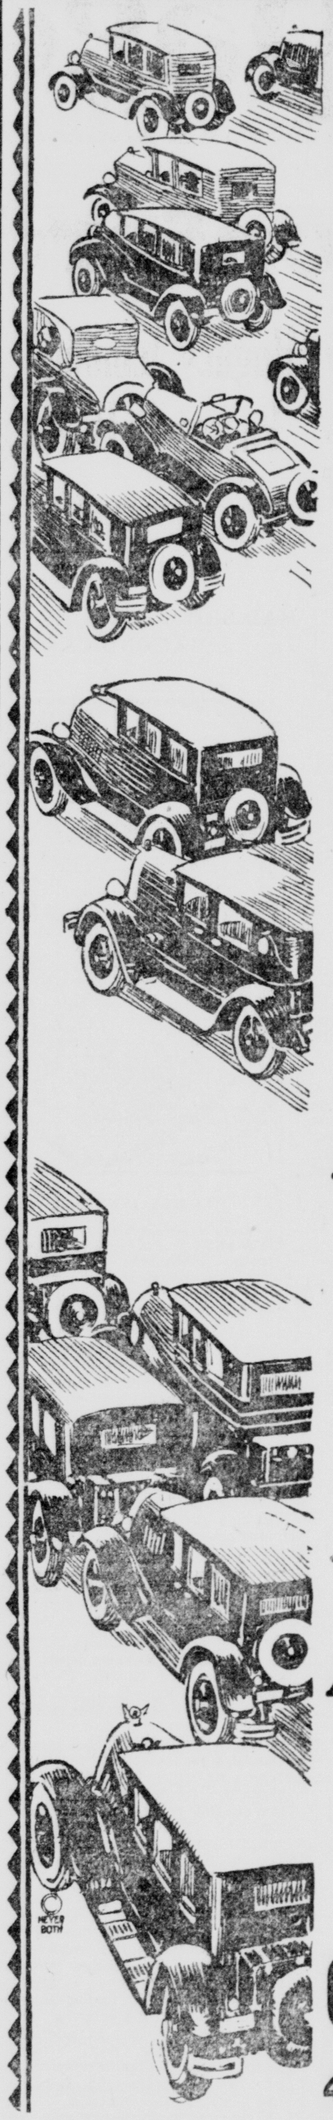

The locals trailed throughout the game until the end of the fourth period when Zieve and E. Solomon shot the points that deadlocked the game at 31-31 as the game ended. In the extra-session Ginsberg was the big star for the locals caging six of the eight points.

The score at the end of the first quarter was 3 to 1 in favor of the Youngstown team, at the end of the first half the count stood 21 to 7, and at the end of the third quarter the locals staged a comeback and were but four points in arrears at 27 to 23.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

By NORMAN E. BROWN

It will be a wise American league fan who knows his own first baseman when the coming baseball campaign opens.

For the winter months have witnessed several shifts around the initial sack, and at least one more old-timer may move before the middle of May rolls around.

The Detroit Tigers sent Lou Blue to the St. Louis Browns, and will depend upon Johnny Neun to cover the bag. The Browns, obtaining Blue, sold George Sisler to Washington at a meager figure. Sisler's presence suggests a later deal, if same can be made, whereby Joe Judge, veteran first baseman of the Senators, will move on to another major league club or the minors.

The White Sox recently sent Earl Sheely to the Pacific coast, and will give Bud Clancy a chance to carry the burden at first. Clancy filled in part of the time last season—usually against lefthanders.

Joe Hauser returns to the Athletics after a comeback in the minors, and Jimmy Dykes, handy man of the team, will have a hard fight on his hands to hold to the first-basing job he filled acceptably last season.

And the end is not yet. It has been rumored repeatedly that the Cleveland Indians will trade George Burns, two-base hitter and first baseman, if they get the proper inducements from some other club in the way of most anything.

Phil Todt apparently has the first basing job to himself again with the Boston Red Sox, and in view of the fair-to-middlin' hitting and fielding of Lou Gehrig, displayed in the 1927 campaign, it is quite probable that Miller Huggins will leave him there. Try to pry him loose.

* * *

Life moves rapidly for some of us at times. Take the case of young Tom Hughes, Jr., college infielder, recently signed for a tryout this spring by the Cleveland Indians.

A year ago he was in prep school, with plans all laid to continue his studies at the University of Wisconson, devoting his spare time to playing baseball on the college nine, as he had done at Kiski academy. It is extremely doubtful that the thought of becoming a married man with the responsibilities attached, had ever entered his mind.

Last falls he broke into the freshman grid squad at the university, and also into the range of Dan Cupid's arrow. A few months late he had left school, married, and embarked on what he hopes to make his occupation for some years at least—playing baseball.

The jolly Pirates and Chicago Cubs were after Hughes, but the Indians apparently beat 'em to the pen and ink.

The young man will get some very valuable pointers from General Manager Evans and Playing Manager Peckinpaugh at New Orleans in March, and then probably will be sent to the minors for a year that he may be able to break into the lineup daily.

The emblem of the British amateur speed skating championship, which has just changed hands for the first time in 20 years, is one of the strangest trophies known in sport. It is in the form of a scarf, nearly 50 years old, which every victor is entitled to wear as he succeeds to the title.

Floor Notes

The Castleton quintet will play the Italian Stars in a floor game at the Mahoningtown school gym on Thursday night. The game will start at 7:15 o'clock. The Castletons hold a victory of 50 to 13 over the Stars in an early season game. The Stars have reorganized and are out to avenge this setback.

The Shamrocks defeated the Union High Alumni in a slow and uninteresting game at the Lincoln-Garfield gym floor on Monday night. The final score was 43 to 3. The Union High boys were held scoreless for three quarters of the game. J. Mehalic with seven baskets, and A. Mehalic and Panas with five apiece were the big scorers of the game. For the Alumni Fox and Gibson played the best game.

The Italians of the South Side are justly proud of the Casa Savoia Big Five this year. The Savoia boys have without a doubt one of the best junior teams in Lawrence County and one of the best teams on the South Side since the days of the Lincoln Five. Any team that wins 20 out of 24 games over some of the leading teams in the city and county must have something. The Savoia team recently defeated Masury, Ohio, at Masury by a big score, this fact will alley the feeling that the Savoia team should win their games as they are mostly played on the House of Savoia floor. The Casa Savoia team has been beaten three times on their own court this year.

The roster of the fast Casa Savoia team this year contains the names of several players who were pupils and players under Arthur McCombs at the Ben Franklin Junior High School, including Y. Marcella, Mancine, P. Gennock, DiThomas, A. Gennock and Ciccone. Much credit for the splendid success of the Savoia team this year is due to Fred Marcella, the stellar South Side athlete who directs the team from the bench and occastonally enters the fray. Positions on the Savoia team are still open and the following boys are asked to get in touch with Coach Marcella: Toby Fernati, Carl Gennock and Hank Nocera. Working in conjunction with Marcella in the success of the Casa Savoia team is Sebastian Isabella and Charles "Tippy" Richards. "Yanks" Marcella the Savioa center is playing a whale of a game this year and is one of the best junior league players in the city today.

Crimson Tossers Resume Practice

GROVE CITY, Feb. 1.—A short practice will be given the Grove City college basketball team this afternoon. It will be only the second practice given the players in the last week during which the first semester examinations have been given. Coach Thorn has been especially anxious to give his players an opportunity to be at their best while taking their important examinations. The lack of sufficient practice may be evident, however, in the game with Allegheny college at Meadville next Saturday night.

As soon as practice is resumed in earnest, Coach Thorn will try to develop better foul shooting by his players. The team foul shooting average is only .476. The crimson mentor believes it should be over 600. The player with the highest average is "Red" Ryan. The popular guard has an average of .750. Other players with their averages follow: Gurney .727, Rankin .538, Gillium .500 and Angelo .400.

Jailbreak Attempt In Chicago Foiled, Two Convicts Dead

Two Daring Prisoners Are Killed In Battle With Guard; Jailbreak Frustrated

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—A daring jailbreak attempt of two young prisoners, awaiting arraignment on 20 charges of robbery, today resulted in their death and the wounding of a police officer.

The victims were:

Dempsey Parker, 23, prisoner.

Harry Stokes, 20, prisoner.

Barney McNeil, police officer in charge of the jail.

Stokes accidentally shot and killed his pal, Parker, as the latter grappled with the officer. Finding himself trapped, Stokes then fired a bullet into his own brain.

The bullet that killed Parker also struck Officer McNeil, inflicting a flesh wound in the arm.

A third prisoner, a pal of Stokes and Parker, was over-powered and placed in solitary confinement. Thirty-five other inmates of the jail were lined up ready to follow the desperadoes to freedom. None of them escaped.

Commissions Will Discuss Important Questions Today

Two Most Important Commissions Of Pan-American Congress In Session

(International News Service)

HAVANA, Feb. 1.—Further action on several of the major issues pending before the Pan-American conference was expected today with meetings of the two most important commissions—the commission on the Pan-American Union and that dealing with international law.

During the morning the first commission will discuss Mexico's suggestion to discriminate between Latin-American and Saxon-Americans on the staff of the Pan American Union. Although the principal Mexican proposals relative to changing the governing body and personnel of the union have been rejected, the matter of discrimination still remains.

In the evening the commission on international law will meet in an effort to speed up its work. Two important reports on codification are to be considered. One involves the question of intervention, the bugaboo which for a time threatened to be the chief stumbling block at the conference.

Helen Gould, now Mrs. Finley J. Shepard, was an ardent tennis player in her younger days and was one of the first in New York to have a private indoor tennis court.

N. Y. STOCKS

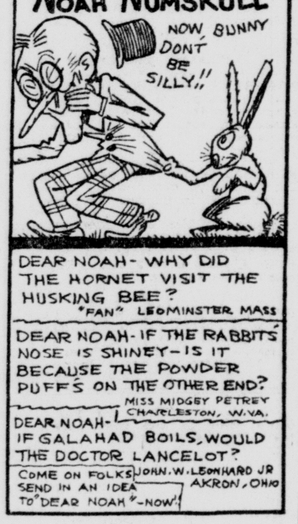

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—After early irregularity, in which the steel and oil stocks declined as the result of unfavorable earnings statements, the market recovered under the lead of the utility stocks and the specialties. Montana Power resumed its spectacular advance and sold above 163, and Federal Traction was a strong bullish leader. United States Steel Common lost a point at the opening, but selling pressure against the stock was negligible, and the stock recovered fractionally.

The motor stocks were uniformly firm in this period with Studebaker, Packard, General Motors and Hudson about a point higher on the average. A few of the cheap metals stocks forged ahead, with American Zinc in the lead. U. S. Steel sold nearly 2 points above yesterday's low.

Prairies Congested With Native Plants

Overcrowded Conditions Result In Stunted Growth For Many Grasses

The human population of the Prairie States is not yet too dense for comfort, but the native plant population long ago arrived at that unhappy state; and the resulting struggle for a livelihood has a stunting effect on all of them. Prof. J. E. Weaver and Dr. Herbert C. Hanson, of the University of Nebraska, addressing the Botanical Society of America recently in Kansas City, told of some of their experiments on overcompetition among prairie plants. Dr. Hanson is thus quoted in Science Service's Daily Science News Bulletin (Washington):

"Experiments conducted in the prairie near Lincoln, Nebraska, have shown that probably none of the plants ever reach their maximum development, since there is not enough water, soil nutriments, or light for all. Each plant must economize to the point of semi-starvation, since its all-too-numerous neighbors are also competing for these limited supplies needed for growth. By removing all of the other plants from a single square yard of prairie soil and permitting wild sunflowers, goldenrods, or a few grasses of the prairie to have the light nutrients and water supply of even this limited area for themselves, remarkable development results. The grasses are much taller and denser and the yield in dry weight is nearly doubled. The sunflowers produced leaves almost twice as large, the number of flower heads was frequently doubled, they were much larger and almost twice as much food was stored in the seeds.

"Seeding trees and shrubs grown in the prairie where the grasses were removed for only a foot on each side of the row made a fine development. Those grown in adjacent rows where the grasses were merely clipped back so as not to shade the trees did poorly because the grasses used too much of the limited supply of water. Finally trees and shrubs grown among the grasses practically all died even when they were watered, since the rapid growth of the dense grass sod afforded too much shade."

Siamese Twins Born To Denver Couple, Fail To Survive

(International News Service)

DENVER, Feb. 1.—Joined together in a fashion similar to the union between Eng and Chang the famous Siamese twins, twin sons were born to Mr. and Mrs. Carl Putnik of Denver. Physicians declare this is the first event of its kind in the annals of Denver medical history.

One of the infants was dead at birth but the other survived long enough for the attending physician to hold momentary hopes of resuscitation. An ex-ray was taken of the pair shortly after the living member breathed his last. This plate was expected to give great aid in the study of such unions.

The babies were said to have been joined by a muscular tissue at the abdomen also by a cartilaginous connection that held the two in a face to face position.

Surgeons forwarded the theory the Putnik twins could not have been separated although it was thought that the two had individual organs. Examination showed no other abnormality other than that the bone and muscle connections.

Although a number of cases are on record where in twins were joined together at the hips, spinal column or shoulders Denver doctors declare the frontal connection is without precedent.

The Siamese twins born in 1811 of Chinese parentage are the only pair on record that lived to an old age. Eng and Chang raised separate families and distinct mental and psychological processes and both died as the Denver twins did soon after the first ceased to breath.

Film Acting Is Lure For Men

(International News Service)

LONDON, Feb. 1.—That the lure of film acting is not, as is commonly supposed confined to the "screen-flapper" is shown by analysis of 1,550 applications for studio work received by a prominent British moving-production company.

A surprisingly large number of male candidates figure among the applicants their occupations ranging from elevator boys to soldiers, sailors and scientists.

Most of the men applied for serious parts among them being a prominent British pugilist.

Russians In Battles Before Moscow Shops During Tea Scarcity

(International News Service)

MOSCOW, Feb. 1.—The battle for tea, a drink without which no Russian can live, has reached such a stage that hair-pullings affrays and fist fights are common in the queues in front of the shops. Tea became scarce almost immediately after the Chinese Nationalist government severed relations and the Soviets stopped buying Chinese tea.

A man who planked down 50 rubles ($25) for 10 pounds of tea in a co-operative store and didn't get it, was turned over to the police and arrested as a "speculator". He faces a couple of years in jail. No state or cooperative shop will sell more than a quarter of a pound to one person. This is done to prevent private merchants from conering the market and reaping rich harvests by boosting the price, which has already gone up to $2.50 a pound.

The government has as yet announced no plan to buy tea in other countries than China to set at rest a growing dissatisfaction among the people who little dreamed that the failure of the Chinese revolution would hit so near home.

Build New Resort On Bahama Island

(International News Service)

NASSAU, Bahama Islands, Feb. 1.—Establishment of a tropical resort on Grand Bahama Island just two hours by motor launch from Palm Beach but in British territory has been announced here by Captain Frederick E. Guest, M. P., head of a syndicate that has purchased a government lease on the entire island.

A permit was issued here to Captain Guest and his business associates for the construction of a deep water harbor by the Bahaman parliament. Work will start immediately after an aerial survey of the Grand Bahama by members of the British Royal Air corps now in progress.

Yacht basin, beaches and gardens will be perfected by the syndicate composed of English, Canadian and American business men. An elaborate resort hotel will also be constucted on the island to house the many guests expected.

The inducement of being in British territory and under British government which has no prohibition laws is expected to attract many winter tourists from Palm Beach.

Kansas Youth Captures Wolf Without Weapon

(International News Service)

SMITH CENTER, Kan., Feb. 1.—Henry Clutcher, a 10-year old farmer boy of Smith County, fearlessly attacked a full grown wolf and captured the beast alive. His only weapon was his overcoat.

The lad was trudging through a field enroute to school when he spied an object lying flat on the ground. Approaching it noiselessly young Clutcher discovered it to be a full grown wolf.

Still treading softly the boy pulled off his overcoat. When he got close enough to the wolf he dived at the animal's head pinning it to the ground with his overcoat.

Then began a savage combat between wolf and boy.

The beast, so rudely awakened fought desperately, biting and clawing.

The youngster rapidly was getting the worst of the fight when two men going along a nearby road saw the battle and rushed to the boy's assistance. The wolf was subdued and bound.

The boy was given first aid treatment for some gashes he received on one of his arms.

The men, strangers to the boy, were so taken with the lad's courage that they offered him all the money they had, $4.90, for the wolf. The youngster accepted. Then he continued his way nonchalantly to school proudly jingling his newly found riches in his pocket.

Mussolini In Fine Health Is Doctor's Report

(International News Service)

LONDON, Feb. 1.—Despite the rumors to the contrary, Premier Mussolini of Italy was never in better health, according to Dr. Aldo Castellani, a London physician and director of tropical medicine at the Ross Institute, London, who has just returned from Italy, where he examined "Il Duce."

"I found Signor Mussolini in perfect health," Dr. Castellani said.

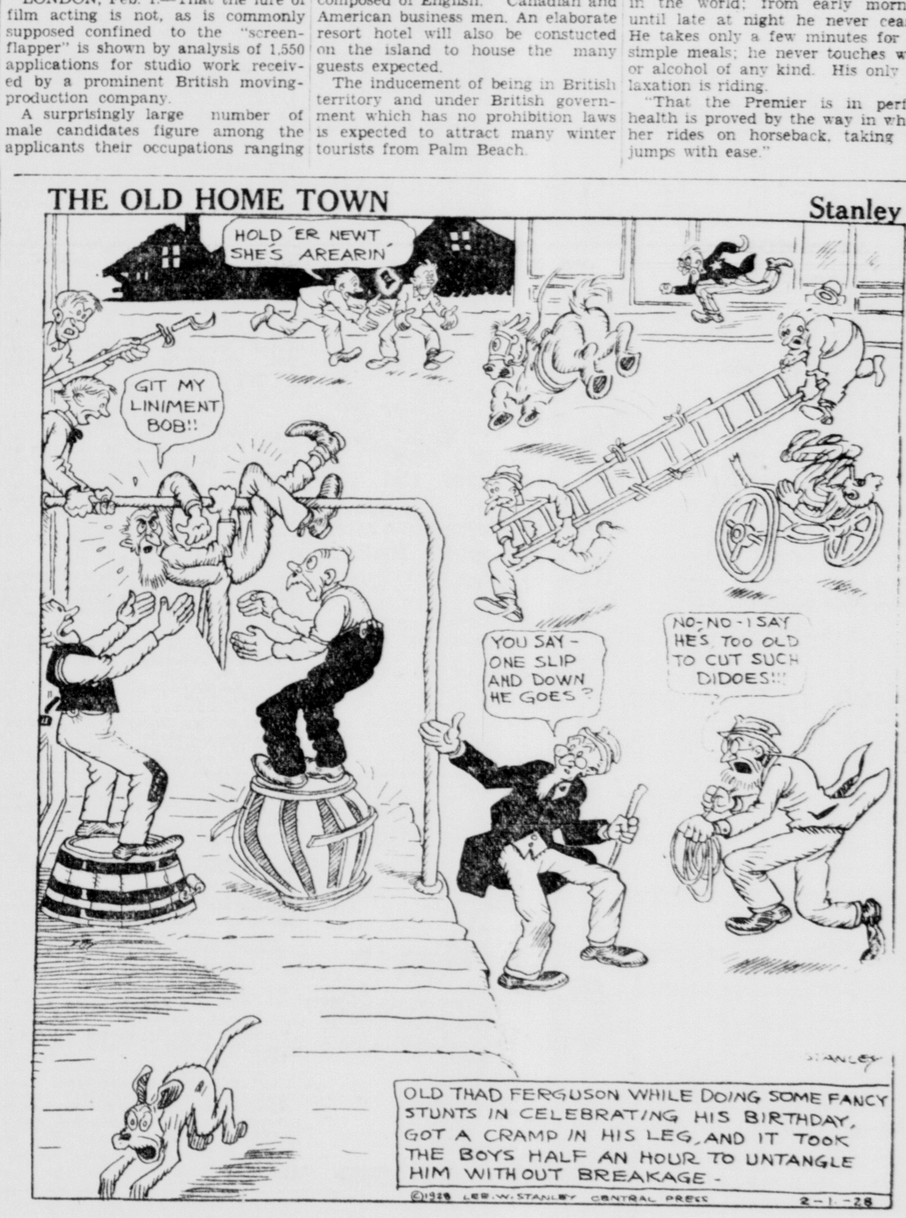

"He is one of the greatest workers in the world; from early morning until late at night he never ceases. He takes only a few minutes for his simple meals; he never touches wine or alcohol of any kind. His only relaxation is riding.

"That the Premier is in perfect health is proved by the way in which her rides on horseback, taking big jumps with ease."

Federal Highway Aid Fund May Be Doubled

By GEORGE H. MANNING
(Washington Correspondent of the News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 1.—Pennsylvania's allotment of Federal funds for aid in highway construction will be doubled if Congress passes a bill now being considered by the Roads committee of the House of Representatives.

During the last fiscal year $3,180,313.25 of United States funds was given to Pennsylvania to help the state build its highways, and at the end of the fiscal year $6,066,283.78 was left unexpended in Pennsylvania's allotment of the Federal funds.

These Federal allotments must be equalled by the state, and the Federal funds are apportioned among the states on a basis of the total highway mileage of the state. Preference is given to interstate highways, and other limitations and regulations are placed upon the state's use of federal funds.

Unless the highway federal aid policy is to be abandoned after the expiration of the fiscal year 1929, there will have to be legislation enacted authorizing appropriations for subsequent years.

Representative Cassius C. Dowell of Iowa, chairman of the committee on roads, has introduced a bill authorizing for each of the fiscal years 1930 and 1931 the appropriation of $75,000,000, the amount of the present annual appropriation. A bill introduced by Representative R. Walton Moore of Virginia doubles the amount, and contemplates an annual appropriation of $150,000,000 to be distributed among the states during each of the fiscal years 1930 and 1931, and $15,000,000 for forest roads and trails on government land.

In 1921 the appropriation was $100,000,000 and since then Representative Moore points out, the use of the government of the highways has enormously increased. In that period rural routes have been increased to the extent of nearly 118,000 miles, which is a 10 per cent increase, and in the Star Route service there has been a great increase in the movement over the highways of mail trucks operated by the government or under government contracts. He stated that the farmers are immediately interested.

An enlargement of federal aid funds would enable the states to devote more of their revenue to the construction and improvement of the minor roads, including the so-called feeder roads which are so important to the farmers, Representative Moore explains.

The Federal highway system in Pennsylvania comprises 4,602.1 miles, of which 1,639.5 miles have been improved with Federal aid. The total cost of all Federal aid roads completed in Pennsylvania up to the end of the fiscal year 1927 was $83,038,333.31, of which the United States had paid $27,819,175.23.

ENGLISH WOMEN DEFENDED

English women are greatly agitated over the charge made by a prominent Frenchman that women are being deformed by English sports and games. The critic had been studying the fashionable French dressmakers' catalogs with their drawings of peculiar creatures with hollow chests, curved figures, sharp shoulder blades and crooked legs. They shocked him, he said, and he added that as these drawings were used by English dressmakers as a general fashion guide the English girls must like them. Englishmen have replied that the pictures were not those of the real woman athlete and gymnast, and they resent the liberty taken by French fashion artists in displaying them.

The theory that angels are feminine is bunk. It is seldom that mediums can get anybody from the other world to talk.

Thirty Three Bus Drivers Have Year's Perfect Record

Thirty-three of the 51 drivers employed by the P.-O. Coach Lines during the last half of 1927 made perfect safety records during that period. Not one of them had a chargeable accident, that is, an accident which could have possibly been avoided by the operator.

In addition, 22 of these 35 men had similarly clear records in the first half of the year, so that not a single accident was charged against any of them throughout 1927.

These remarkable safety records will be celebrated within the next week or 10 days by dinner meetings at which the operators will receive certificates of appreciation from the company. The men who had no accidents throughout the year also will receive gold safety pins.

The drivers who made 100 per cent safety records throughout 1927 were: K. B. Burton, Joseph Billings, J. S. Baker, George Cochran, Leo C. Carney, Cecil Cunningham, W. C. Calvey, Carl Englehart, H. H. Foerster, J. K. Graham, M. N. Graham, George Hoagland, James Iredale, B. P. James, Alvin Miller, F. J. Mitlow, Edward Muldoon, Carl Payne, R. M. Powell, L. C. Smith, W. E. Smith and Ernest Wilde.

The 11 in addition to these men who had clear records in the last six months of the year were: V. C. Collins, Lloyd Elliott, George Glassford, Ray Kerns, F. G. Kenvin, R. H. Oliphant, Guy T. Sisler, R. L. Todd, H. P. Wilde, Charles Wilson and G. A. Little.

Eight other drivers who had no accidents in the last three months of the year will be guests at the dinner meetings which will be held in Cleveland and Youngstown. They are: Jeff Downey, Glen Ferry, H. Kunkleman, J. Nicholas, H. Robb, H. Metzenroth, O. S. Pyke and W. Mohreman.

The drivers represent every division of the P.-O. coach system. They drive their coaches every day over the heaviest traffic routes in this section of the country between Cleveland and Youngstown, Akron and Youngstown, Youngstown, Sharon and Greenville, Sharon and New Castle and New Castle and Youngstown.

Unpardonable Sin To Be Discussed By Rev. McQuilkin

Large Crowd Expected To Attend Services This Evening In Third U. P. Church

The large auditorium of the Third United Presbyterian church was completely filled and part of the balcony Tuesday evening to hear Dr. James McQuilkin of the First United Presbyterian church of Carnegie, Pa., preach on "The Measure of a Man."

Rev. McQuilkin emphasized the fact that a man cannot be measured by his birth, physical stature or education but by his re-berth, the qualities of his mind and heart.

A baritone solo by Arthur Hulburt and a duet number by Mrs. O'Neill and Mrs. Hanna were pleasing features of the evening; also selections by the two choirs were much enjoyed.

This evening Dr. McQuilkin will preach on the theme "The Unpardonable Sin." He hinted at the service last evening that there are ten thousand people in this city who should hear this message. Sections six, seven and eight will attend in a body.

The special services thus far have been overwhelmingly successful. Great crowds have attended each evening and a wonderful spirit has prevailed throughout the campaign. Many accessions have been added to the church.

CUSTOMS SCANDAL CHARGED

That employes of the custom house department are imposing fines on importers with the hope of getting the goods thrust into dispute, has just been charged by a newspaper in Buenos Aires, Argentina. It cites that when the importers appeal the fines to the federal court nine-tenths of the appeals are successful. Goods seized for breach of regulations are confiscated for the benefit of the employes of the custom house, and it is said that employes file many complaints on the chance that some will be successful. Merchants are complaining because they are put to additional legal expense and are unable to get their importations promptly.
